RUSSIA BLAMES POLAND AFTER ENVOY MURDER

Czarist Youth Kills Red Minister.

MOSCOW, Russia, June 7.—[U.P.]—The assassination of M. Volkoff, Russian minister to Poland, was "part of the whole sequence of acts intended to disrupt its diplomatic mission," soviet Russia said in a note to the Polish government today. The note demanded that the "Mussulki government take responsibility for the occurrence."

The Polish government, said the note, which was signed by Maxim Litwinsky, assistant commissar of foreign affairs, "cannot avoid responsibility" for the murder.

Links Up British Break.

"The soviet government," it continued, "considers this un-rallied wickedness a part of the whole sequence of acts intended to disrupt its diplomatic missions abroad." It connected the murder of M. Volkoff with the raid on the soviet embassy in Peking, the raid in London, and Great Britain's severance of relations with Russia.

These acts, the note charged, "let loose terrorist groups and reactionaries filled with blind hatred of the working classes." The soviet government reserved the right to reopen the subject after more complete details of the tragedy were available. The note was delivered to Polish Minister Patek at Moscow.

Warsaw Fears Break.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) WARSAW, Poland, June 7.—A break between Russia and Poland was feared in all circles in Warsaw following the assassination of the Russian minister, M. Volkoff, at the central station this morning. He was walking quietly up and down the quay at the central station with M. Rosengolski, who until recently was chargé d'affaires of London and who was expelled from England when Great Britain broke with Russia. M. Rosengolski was on his way to Moscow.

A young Russian student stepped up to Minister Volkoff and fired at him. The minister immediately drew his revolver and fired, but the boy was the better shot. He hit the Russian with four bullets before the minister went down. The police rushed up and carried the Red minister to a hospital.

Polish Foreign Minister Zaleski hurried to the hospital, urging the doctors to do everything possible to save the man. An operation was performed, but in vain. M. Volkoff died in an hour.

The murderer was arrested immediately. He is Boris Kowode, 19 years old, a confirmed monarchist, who wanted to avenge the late czar's family and the losses and sufferings of his friends.

Polish Chiefs Apologize.

WARSAW, Poland, June 7.—[UPI]—On learning of the assassination of the soviet minister, President Moscicki of Poland sent the following message to President Kalinin of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics of Russia:

"Very deeply shocked and indignant over the outrageous murder of M. Volkoff. I beg you to be good enough to accept this expression of my most sincere condolences."

Foreign Minister Zaleski in a similar message to the soviet foreign office said:

"In the name of the Polish government and myself permit me to express the most sincere sympathies on the occasion of the criminal attack against the soviet minister in Warsaw."

"I assure you that public opinion without distinction shares in the unanimous condemnation by the government of the murderer committed against the person of your very esteemed diplomatic representative here."

Linked to Czar's Death.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) RIGA, Latvia, June 7.—The assassination of M. Volkoff, soviet minister to Poland, was the second in the Baltic states of a new wave of killing.

M. Volkoff, according to the Lenin-Krasny Gazette, superintended the destruction of the bodies of the late Czar Nicholas and his family with sulphuric acid and petroleum on the outskirts of Ekaterinburg immediately after their murder by his assistant, Commander Yurovsky, on the night of July 16, 1918. The complete details of the murder were published in the Gazette in December, 1925.

(Dispatches from London yesterday said the Evening News asserted M. Volkoff was the official at Ekaterinburg who signed the Romanovs' death warrants, though this is denied from Moscow by Tass, official soviet news agency.)

M. Volkoff's part in the crime caused the ostracism of his wife by Warsaw's diplomatic set.

pride of you. The American people are proud of you. We all congratulate you most enthusiastically, congratulate you and salute you as conquerors of the ocean and champions of the air.

"I hail you also as a celestial messenger of good will and friendship from the American people to the German people, friends united over the ocean throughout the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and now, please heaven, also more closely united through the air in the twentieth century and all the centuries to follow."

Given Laurel Wreath.

While the ambassador still was speaking, seven laurel wreaths were brought up to the flyers. The wreaths were tied with big yellow and blue ribbons, the colors of the German aviation organizations.

The sturdiest policemen stepped up took the American flyers off the shoulders, and put them into a motor car which had been pushed up behind the airplane while 150,000 persons shouted and hurrahd on Tempelhof field and the surrounding streets and houses. The police had roped everybody out except small groups around the ambassador, but hundreds broke through.

The policemen lost their heads as they have been doing for the last twenty-four hours. When the ambassador wanted to step into the motor after the flyers a big policeman held him back. The master of ceremonies of Tempelhof field, in a black derby hat, seeing the tumult, gave a signal to the police and twenty of them raced ahead, hauling the car with the American flyers and leaving the ambassador behind.

There was only one representative of the American colony in the car. The man in the derby hat snarled at him, demanding to know what he was doing there. The American snapped back: "What did you say?" —not in formal words, but in a grammatical form used for children and subordinates. The man in the derby shrank back and the representative of the American colony was permitted to welcome his countrymen.

Full Car Around Field.

The motor car raced all around the field, drawn and pushed by police, while the enthusiasm of the crowd knew no limits. New grates broke through the police lines and chased the car around the field. A little boy got on the running board of the car soothed the anxiety in her heart, he assured her: "I am in the hands of good folks."

Later, in the embassy, when interviewed, he declared:

"I wanted to know whether mother is well enough to come. I am anxious to have her with me."

After asking his mother to give his greetings to his friends in America, he left the aviation field with the ambassador. —officials of presenting America. A motor lorry with police preceded their car and in triumph they rode through the streets of Berlin, with hundreds of thousands lining the sidewalks, held back by other thousands of police in green and blue uniforms, on foot, motorcycles, and horseback.

"Nobody," she answered. "I'm going alone."

The city council today formally requested John C. Lodge, acting master of Detroit, and a great uncle of Col. Lindbergh, to go to Washington and extend an invitation to the flyer to visit Detroit. Detroit desires as the birthplace of Lindbergh desires to pay tribute to him and elaborate plans have been made for a reception here following his visit to St. Louis.

to fill his young heart with pride at being so close to the heroes from America.

But that was not on the program.

The man in the derby hat seized an umbrella and started hammering on the little hands with which the youngster was clinging to the side of the car.

When the car had completed the circle of the field the ambassador had reached the door of the reception room and was awaiting the flyers, while telephone operators were preparing connection over London and New York to Denison, in the home of Mr. Chamberlin's parents from the heart of central Europe to the middle west of America. By a relay voice in London Mr. Chamberlin talked to his mother and urged her to come to Germany.

The crowd, seeing the aviator at the telephone, interrupted its cheers and held its breath for minutes, anxious to help the young boy from America hear the voice of his mother. She had not been well and had never questioned him. "How are you?" Then with a sigh of relief, his second reply: "That's good." He then told her of the overwhelming reception given him, and to honor the flyers. No authentic ready made American flag existed in Kottbus, but a number of volunteers Betsy Rosses produced a home made one in the night—one with seventeen stripes and thirty-five stars of four different sizes. This deformed love child was hung over the place of honor in the great hall of the Stadthaus when Mr. Chamberlin and Mr. Levine this morning were led into this ancient building to receive the freedom of the city.

There were in the eyes of the two flyers as the burgomaster, wearing a five-pointed star gold chain, made a short speech. It moved them though that "for your achievement and affection for your honor to the nation, we are proud to give you the highest honor of our city, which in 1920 will look back on 1,000 years of history—an honorary citizenship."

Two silver salvers—a gift from the city corporation—were then presented to the flyers.

Feasting mugs of beer—the preferred drink of the heroes were met in evidence at the luncheon given by the municipality. A shoddy coated flying jacket, gold breeches and stockings constituted Mr. Chamberlin's costume at this luncheon, as he came fresh from the flying field. In contrast, the small town dignitaries wore high collars and middewored frock coats.

Mr. Levine was in the same blue pencil striped suit with which he started.

With enthusiasm broke from the densely massed crowd about the hotel entrance and the traditional little girl came forward with a bouquet of flowers for Mr. Chamberlin, as the flyers entered. The latter showed that he has learned at least a few words of German. He took the flowers with his usual smile and said: "Danke sehr" in German.

The town dignitaries here expanded to new heights of exuberance in the flyers' arrival, the large luncheon hall, with the oak panelled walls, brought iron chandeliers and huge German porcelain stove in one corner.

The little city never had seen a crowd to equal that which gathered at the flying field for the departure of the Americans. Innumerable wreaths bound in silk were piled on the plane. The two aviators stood before the Columbia smiling for photographers, who German and local pride was gratified by painting where was the word "Paris" on the side of the plane in struggling black streaks, "Berlin," and below that, "Kottbus."

IRKED BECAUSE COOLIDGE DIDN'T PRAISE LEVINE

New York, June 7.—(Special)—The Day, Jewish newspaper, tomorrow morning will print an editorial entitled "President Coolidge and the Jew," in which it indicates resentment at the President's failure to mention Charles A. Levine in his cablegram of congratulations to Jacob Gould Schurman.

American ambassador to Germany, on the record breaking flight of Clarence D. Chamberlin and Levine in the Bellanca monoplane Columbia. The Day's editorial says in part:

"At last we, too, are convinced of the great economy of our President. He is so parsimonious, he watches so closely the cash register of Uncle Sam, that even the great sum of about 66 cents (the cost of cabling three words to Germany) is of importance to him, or is it only because the pioneer happens to be called Levine?"

DAWES SELECTS SENATORS FOR LINDBERGH FETE

Chicago, Little Falls, Too,
Add Their Plans.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

Chicago, Little Falls, Minn., and the nation cooperated yesterday in this city in making plans for the homecoming of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Vice President Charles G. Dawes, before leaving for St. Louis, to make further preparations for the aviator's official welcome, announced the appointment of the following committee to represent the United States senate at the national reception in Washington next Saturday: Senators Curtis of Kansas, Republican leader in the senate; Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader in the senate; Schall and Shipstead of Minnesota, the state in which Lindbergh spent his boyhood; Reed and Hawks of Missouri, the state which backed the transatlantic flight; Warren of Wyoming, Swett of Virginia, Hale of Maine, Connelly of New York, Harrison of Mississippi, and Reed of Pennsylvania.

Come from Little Falls.

Down from Little Falls, Minn., yesterday morning came a motor car of citizens of the town to Washington as the home town committee and, including also by appointment of G. Theodore Christensen of Minnesota as official state committee. The party consisted of Mayor Austin L. Grimes, Kenneth T. Martin and two of Lindbergh's high school chums, J. S. Lewis and C. H. Longley.

In Washington they will be joined by the two other members of the committee: State Senator Christian Rosenmeier and R. D. Muser.

Chicago Plans Welcome.

Chicago will entertain Col. Lindbergh for three days, June 24, 25, and 26, if he accepts the invitation to be given him by a committee of the city council. Led by Ald. J. J. Horan, the committee will meet Lindbergh at Washington, D. C. It is hoped that he will be here during the military tournament on Soldiers' field on those dates. The aldermen leave for Washington Thursday on the same train with Mayor Thompson and members of the food control conference executive committee.

Linking up with the world's interest in Lindbergh's flight with future aviation progress, H. H. Blod of the bureau of aeronautics, U. S. department of commerce, in the first of a series of 68 talks which he plans to give throughout the country on "Commercial Aeronautics," spoke yesterday noon at a meeting of the Rotary club at the Hotel Sherman.

Carry 12 Million Letters.

"During the last year," Mr. Blod said, "there were 12,000,000 letters delivered by government planes. Planes delivered express over a distance of 2,000,000 miles. For the 20,000 passengers who took advantage of flying, the fatality record was only one person for every 1,000,000 miles."

It is well for American commercial aviation, Mr. Blod maintained, that it receives supervisory aid rather than subsidy from the government. Free from subsidy, the commercial air transport business can benefit from competition, and more readily can be placed on a solid business footing, Mr. Blod argued.

Many airmen and prospective members of the 10th Observation squadron, Illinois National guard, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the 122d Field Artillery armory, 234 East Chicago avenue. Maj. Merrill D. Mann Jr. is getting the unit ready to be mustered into service by June 25. Many of the members, personal friends of Lindbergh, will be organized into a local welcome committee when the aviator visits Chicago.

Mr. Andrew Fuerstenberg, of 6816 Champlain, who obtained a divorce from Harold B. Fuerstenberg, cotton and linen goods broker, on the grounds of desertion before marriage, was granted a judgment of $10,000 was arranged outside of court, it was reported.

MISSING

MISS MARY M' HUGH.

Authorities at Kankakee yesterday started a search for two girls who left the Notre Dame convent at Bourbons on Saturday and have not communicated with their parents since.

They are Mary McHugh, 17, of 324 East 69th street, and Genevieve La Marie, 18, of Bourbons. Mary is a junior at the convent and Genevieve was to have been graduated this month.

A theory that they might have been kidnapped was advanced, but the sheriff at Kankakee was inclined to believe the girls had run away. Mrs. Phillip McHugh, mother of Mary, said her daughter had never taken any interest in boys and had considered taking the veil.

PARIS RESENTS. MARILYN'S TALK OF EASY DIVORCE

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, June 7.—Her laughing remark about "Paris being the easiest place in the world to get a divorce," may thwart Marilyn Miller's plans to sever her matrimonial knot with Jack Pickford when she arrives next week.

The two had planned a friendly suit after a temporary residence in France, but a high judicial official, when shown a copy of the "Parisian" paper being the divorce paradise "because all have to do is to take up legal residence there," said tonight that this was a pure violation of the circular of 1924 granting divorces only to those foreigners with real residences and refusing those having provisory residences.

Her statement, made in Los Angeles and published in the Paris press, will be used against her in court, the judge said.

DESCENDANT OF JOHN ALDEN IN ALIENATION SUIT

New York, June 7.—(UPI)—Suit for $150,000 for alleged alienation of his wife's affection was filed in the Supreme court today by Alden S. Condict, a lineal descendant of John Alden, against his wife's parents, Dr. Fenlon Benedict Turck and Mrs. Mrs. Avina Paine Turck, formerly of Rush street, Chicago.

Condict's marriage to Miss Katherine Paine Turck, Nov. 1, 1925, was one of the social events of the season. His wife was graduated from one of New York's most fashionable private schools and at the time was a member of the Junior League. Condict is a great-grandson of Jonathan Dickinson, first president of Princeton university. Counsel for Dr. and Mrs. Turek issued a statement denying the charges.

CAPITAL TO TAKE HOLIDAY TO SEE CAPT. LINDBERGH

Destroyers and Airplanes
Will Escort Him.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.—(UPI)—Stores have been asked to close and all government employees will be dismissed at noon to allow every Washingtonian an opportunity to see Capt. Lindbergh upon his triumphal arrival in Washington Saturday. President Coolidge, while declining to announce an all possible holiday, has directed that all possible employes be allowed to leave their work in time to welcome the aviator when the cruiser Memphis steams up the Potomac river and into the navy yard.

Plans now approved by the President call for the dirigible Los Angeles and a squadron of seaplanes to meet the Memphis many miles out to sea, escorting the hero to the capital. A squadron of destroyers will also be directed to leave Hampton Roads Friday in time to pick up the Memphis 100 miles out in the Atlantic and furnish a naval escort.

Mother First to Greet Him.

Only a few people will be allowed in the navy yard when the Memphis arrives, and Mrs. Evangeline Lindberg, mother of the aviator, will be the first to greet Capt. Lindbergh at the steps from the Memphis.

Immediately after landing, Capt. Lindbergh will be taken on a triumphal tour around the capital to the unopened Penneyvania avenue to the Washington monument grounds, where President Coolidge will present the President-Teacher association.

The presentation will be made on a platform built to afford accommodations for cabinet members, the Supreme Court, Congress, officials, in this space seats for 1,000 and reserved standing arrangements for another 1,500 have been arranged. District officials estimate the the monument grounds will afford an opportunity for 150,000 persons to see Lindbergh.

Awarded Hubbard Medal.

Capt. Lindbergh today was admitted to the restricted circle of explorers who have received the Hubbard medal of the National Geographic society.

Only seven persons have received this honor, the last being Commander Richard Byrd for his flight across the north pole.

The other recipients of the medal have been Rear Admiral Peary, discoverer of the north pole; Roald Amundsen, Capt. Robert A. Bartlett, Grove Carl Gilbert, Sir Ernest H. Shackleton and Vilhjalmur Stefansson.

Chamberlin in Berlin and Iowa Mother Talk by Phone

TEMPELHOFER FIELD, June 7.—(UPI)—One of the first messages conveyed to Clarence D. Chamberlin on his arrival here in the Columbia was that a telephone connection was being held open from Tempelhoffer Field by way of London so that he might talk with his mother in Iowa.

"Confident He Would Make It."

"Hello, mother, dear," was Chamberlin's greeting. "Are you well enough to come to Europe? I should love to have you here. Our plane are not yet fixed, but we intend to remain in London about two weeks, and may go to Scotland later. I am feeling fine, mother."

What was said at the other end of the wire could not be learned, but Chamberlin's fact lit up as he listened to the answer.

"Phone Talk Thrills Mother."

DENISON, Ia., June 7.—(UPI)—For nine minutes shortly before noon today Mrs. E. C. Chamberlin, at her home here, was in communication by telephone and radiophone with her son, Clarence, trans-Atlantic flier, at Tempelhoffer field, Berlin.

The call, which bridged the United States, the ocean which had spanned by plane, England, Holland, and half of Germany, was declared by telephone officials to have been one of the longest ever made in history.

Forced to Relay Call.

Mrs. Chamberlin did not talk directly to her son, but through an intermediate in London. The call from Chamberlin in Berlin to London went into a different switchboard than that from Mrs. Chamberlin to London. Consequently it was a physical impossibility to connect the two, officials said.

LEVINE GETS IN ROW OVER MAIL TAKEN ON FLIGHT

Washington, D. C., June 7.—(P)—Charles A. Levine, who had trouble with the air mail service before he embarked on his trans-Atlantic flight with Clarence Chamberlin, apparently has headed into a new row with postal officials incidental to the flight and involving among others Postmaster Sealy at Hempstead, Long Island.

Sealy has been asked for a report on his action in cancelling air mail stamps on 250 letters which Levine took across the Atlantic with him in the monoplane Columbia. Information received by the postoffice department is that Sealy cancelled the stamps away from his postoffice and delivered the letters to persons not authorized to receive United States mail.

High Value of Stamps.

Postal officers estimated that the present value of the cancelled stamps to dealers and collectors would be $1,000 each, since they are the first stamps on mail to cross the Atlantic by airplane.

As the story was related today some one approached Postmaster Sealy before any of the trans-Atlantic planes took off and inquired as to the feasibility of air mail being sent to Europe on them. Sealy spoke to Postoffice Inspector Owen Keene, who expressed the general view that such a thing would be feasible.

Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off without carrying such mail. Later the subject again was taken up with Sealy, who reported that a Sergt O'Connor of the army air force at Mitchel field, Long Island, discussed the matter with him.

At the request of O'Connor, Postmaster Sealy took his cancellation stamp and cancelled 250 letters bearing airmail stamps.

Refused Mail Contract.

This action by Levine constitutes another phase of the feud between him and Postmaster General New, which began last March with the refusal of

REAL SECRETS OF CRUISER SHOWN TO LINDBERGH

BY CAPT. CHARLES A. LINDBERGH

(Copyright: 1927, By the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.)

Aboard S. S. Memphis, radio, via Louisville, Ky., June 7.—I had a rare experience this morning, being taken to the fire control station—the most secret part of the Memphis or any other of Uncle Sam's fighting ships, where no foreigners, however exalted, are permitted to go.

With my hands on the $25,000 instrument I controlled, for a moment, each of twelve six-inch guns and four three-inch anti-aircraft guns which the Memphis mounts.

Not even kings and governmental chiefs of foreign powers are allowed to see this secret tower, from which is sent forth the automatic order directing the deadly fire of the Memphis mounts.

Marvled at Gunners' Skill.

I can't see how men escape without losing their fingers in handling those 115 pound shells. As a matter of fact, Lieutenant Commander Jay K. Ester told me casualties are reduced to a minimum, but when you see the speed of the crew it is hard to understand how fingers come out whole.

We inspected several gleaming, business-like guns. It was another thrilling experience and honor which I appreciate greatly.

Sees Loading Drill.

Lieutenant Commander Ester, gunnery officer, with my escort, and besides the fire control station I saw the forward twin gun mount, where a special loading drill by the crack loading crew of the United States navy was staged for my benefit. The speed and accuracy of the men was amazing; I saw the six-inchers and then went below to the magazine, where are stored high explosive shells and powder. There is enough on board to make a sizable enemy fleet take to its heels.

[The Memphis passed the halfway mark on its trip to Washington yesterday and all indications are that it will reach port on time next Saturday.]

BOYCOTT TO MAKE MILK COMPANIES PAY MORE URGED

Ways and means of compelling Chicago milk distributors, possibly by boycott, to pay dairy herd owners a higher price for their product, were sought yesterday at a meeting in Elgin of the Milk Producers' association.

W. J. Kittle, of Crystal Lake, Ill., secretary of the association, offered a plan whereby the large Chicago dealers would be boycotted unless the price demanded was paid. He said there were five large dairy owning marketing plants at Orteg and Mankato, Ill.; Burlington, Salem, and Marion, Wis., which could be used by the producers in establishing a farmers' cooperative market for milk.

Whatever surplus remained as a result of a boycott could be turned into butter and cheese until the big dealers agreed to the increase, Kittle said.

No action was taken at the meeting, it being decided that a campaign for additional memberships should be undertaken so that a united front against the distributors could be presented.

JARECKI ORDERS QUIZ ON COUNT OF ILLEGAL BALLOTS

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday ordered an investigation into charges that thousands of votes cast in the judicial election Monday had been counted improperly. It was said that many of the ballots that should have been thrown out because a vote for sheriff was written in were counted illegally. Inasmuch as the lowest of the coalition candidates won by more than $6,000 over the highest of the independent candidates, the investigation can have no effect on the results of the election, it was stated.

RULES A PISTOL IN PURSE IS NOT CONCEALED GUN

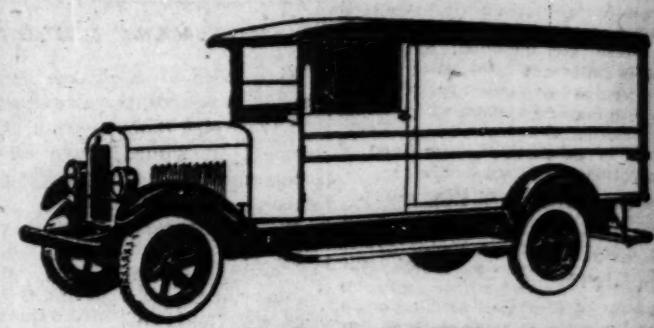

Miss Mary J. Gahagan, 25 years old, a former teacher at the Von Hamboldt school, who was arrested last February by Oak Park police when she was found with an automatic pistol in her purse, was discharged yesterday before Chief Justice William J. Lindsey in the criminal court. The judge held with Attorney Joseph R. Roach that the pistol being in a pouch or purse could not be considered as a violation of the statute prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons.

A second charge of assault with intent to kill against Miss Gahagan is expected to be dropped before the grand jury later in the week as a result of the testimony of Dr. Burton Mack, 1139 North Ridgefield avenue, Oak Park. The physician said he was in Hot Springs when a shot was fired through a window in his home. Dr. Mack told the prosecutors, they said, that since his marriage Miss Gahagan imagined herself a woman scorned.

TOSSES CHICAGO HAT IN RING FOR 1928 CONVENTION

Moore Calls on Coolidge;
Opens Fight for It.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., June 7.—[Special]—Allen F. Moore, Republican national committeeman from Illinois, emerged from the executive office today and tossed Chicago's hat into the ring of contenders for the Republican national convention of 1928.

Mr. Moore came to Washington to ascertain whether the attitude of the President on the question of the location of the convention is to be encouraging or discouraging to the aspirants of Chicago hotel owners and merchants to land the Republican convention for their city. He went away declaring Mr. Coolidge's attitude sufficiently encouraging to warrant Chicago going after the big prize.

As head of his party, a President, particularly if he is a candidate for renomination, can unquestionably determine the selection of the convention city. In the case of Mr. Coolidge, the politicians doubt not that, if he be a candidate for another term, he would rather be renominated by a convention held in the west than by one held in the east. He is an easterner and his eastern affiliations still were further emphasized by his veto of the McNary-Haugen bill and general lack of sympathy with the farm relief measures sponsored by the corn belt.

Partisans Fill Galleries.

Renomination of Mr. Coolidge by a convention held in the west would be to give the curse off the President in the corn belt and stamp his candidacy with a western hall mark of no considerable political value at a time when the fealty of the west to the Republican party is important.

It is in that connection that Chicago looms as the city in which Mr. Coolidge presumably would prefer to be renominated, for Chicago is the mecca of the corn belt and all that land where Mr. Coolidge has been at a low ebb.

On the other hand, Mr. Coolidge conceivably might be reluctant to trust his political fortunes to a convention held in Chicago, the home of two other potential candidates for the Republican nomination—Former Governor Lowden of Illinois and Vice President Charles G. Dawes.

The Coolidge candidate is supposed to have a certain advantage of the candidate from afar. His partisans fill the galleries of the convention and jam the aisles and stage impressive demonstrations of his popularity.

Mr. Lowden is now the outstanding opponent of the President for the nomination. His candidacy is rooted in the corn belt, whose cause he conspicuously championed in the fight for farm relief. He was a leading pro-

COOLIDGE EYES SPECIAL SESSION PLEA FAVORABLY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., June 7.—[Special]—President Coolidge is turning a favorable ear to the pleas of certain senate leaders that congress be convened from a month to six weeks before the regular opening date in December.

The President, it was said, has not made up his mind as to the advisability of assembling congress before the usual date, and will discuss the matter further with party leaders before reaching a decision. For the present he has not decided as to whether such a session might not accomplish much in the way of expediting flood relief legislation, it would give the legislators an opportunity to dispose of the public business and adjourn before the 1928 political campaign gets well under way.

Coolidge Eyes Special Session

President Coolidge feels it might not be worth while to call congress into extra session merely for the purpose of passing flood relief legislation, it being pointed out that some time will be required before the engineers complete their investigations, and that even after their recommendations are made and enacted into law, it will be several years before the enacted legislation could be executed. For that reason a month or two is regarded as of little consequence at the White House.

Those asking for a special session have advised the President that congress faces an unusually heavy schedule and that the session would become a long drawn affair if it is not convened before December. A long session, it was pointed out, would interfere with early participation of members of congress in the political campaign.

Will Confer with Smoot.

The President has invited Senator Smoot (Rep., Mass.) to confer with him at the White House tomorrow. Senator Smoot is known to be anxious for the early assembling of congress. Senator Jones (Rep., Wash.), chairman of the senate commerce committee, also favors an extra session beginning Oct. 1, or not later than Oct. 15.

He pointed out that many problems, including tax legislation, flood control legislation and the farm relief situation are facing congress, any one of which will take considerable time.

CALLS NEW HALL CITY'S CHANCE FOR VAST GROUP

Noted Architect Tells Plan to Beautify Chicago.

(Picture on back page.)
Chicago faces its final favored opportunity for the development of a modern area of grouping for public buildings in deciding the location of the proposed Chicago hall, it is the opinion of Edward H. Bennett, consultant of the Chicago plan commission's "completing architect" to the secretary of the treasury, whose plans for federal building grouping in the "Triangle" at Washington have reached a final stage.

In discussing a hope that those who will choose the site for the $15,000,000 Chicago building will consider some plan other than dropping it at random, Mr. Bennett recalled that Chicago became a leader in the development of centers in many cities when it offered America and the world the group planning of the World's Fair.

Danger in Delay.

"It seems preposterous," he added, "that the one place in America which has provided the stimulus for public building groupings in this country should have done nothing itself excepting as a temporary exemplar. If ten more years are permitted to lapse without even a start being made the increase in land values will make a grouping plan impossible."

Assuming that accessibility constitutes one of the most important elements in the location of a hall, as this hall is to be, and taking into consideration all facts as to transportation and contiguity to the center of the city, the Congress street area between Halsted and Clark streets seems to offer more practical inducements than any other locality.

"The advantages of this area for public building grouping, the exterior beautification and utility development, have already been presented. With Chicago here at one end and the palace of justice at the other, a substantial beginning would be had, with the Union station, post office, buildings of the proposed south station and certain public buildings fitting into the grouping both harmoniously as to location and appearance, and also as to increased accessibility for all."

Opposes Grant Park Site.

"Lack of accessibility, as well as the invasion of ideals and beauty, would bar any part of Grant park as a possible site for a structure for the purposes for which it is intended."

"As to the saving of two or three millions of dollars by building upon a site which need not be paid for, that appears to me to be an illusion, and a foolish one. The saving would be paid for many times over in public inconvenience."

"Deferring longer to take the necessary steps to make a beginning for a great and wonderful group of public authorized by the voting of a $15,000,000 bond issue Monday, were called to meet this afternoon in the rooms of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Purchase of a site and the problem of a proper design for the hall will be the main matters considered.

Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board, said he would propose that the county set aside a sufficient amount as a prize for architects, so that the leading architects of the country may be induced to submit designs for the auditorium, to seat 35,000 or more.

The site question is one that has been troubling the county commissioners and the citizens' commission. William R. Dawes, chairman of the citizens' commission, mentioned two essential requirements—that the site be convenient to the loop and have ample parking facilities.

DETECTIVE CHIEF
DEPOSES FIFTEEN
SQUAD LEADERS

Fifteen detective bureau squad leaders were deposed and relegated to outlying police stations in a shakeup of the bureau personnel last night by Chief of Detectives William E. O'Connor.

In all, 59 policemen, including two lieutenants, were sent out of the bureau and 63 new men brought in to take their places. This is the largest transfer order affecting the bureau since the Thompson administration came into office.

Chief O'Connor said the shakeup is a sequence of a warning to squad leaders a month ago that they must "get back to catching crooks." Several of the leaders failed to take the warning seriously, he said.

CITY CLUB CALLS SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS MISTAKE

The City club yesterday joined the group of civic organizations protesting against Mayor Thompson's legislative bills providing for the construction of school buildings by the sale of bond issues instead of by taxes as at present.

"We consider that the proposed change in the law will mean greater ultimate cost of school buildings and an unnecessary burden upon the tax payers," a report issued by the club said.

The wiser and more economical policy is to finance these annually recurring expenditures on the pay-as-you-go basis. We urge that no action of the kind contemplated be taken in these last days of the legislature's session."

The report was approved by the club's board of directors following its adoption by a special committee consisting of Dr. Charles S. Bacon, Allen B. Pond, Lessing Rosenthal, Harry O. Gillett, Albert P. Allen, Herbert Bebb, W. H. Haight and Fred A. Moore.

POLITICAL GOSSIP FLIES AS MAYOR AND SMALL DINE

Crowe's Capital Visit Also Stirs Rumors.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Springfield, Ill., June 7.—(Special.)—The appearance of Mayor William Hale Thompson and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe at the state house today worked the gossip into a fever of speculation on governorship politics. The clinical thermometers almost burst with the heat tonight over tidings that the mayor had accepted an invitation to dinner with Gov. Small at the executive mansion.

One report which made wild echoes flying in the effect that Mr. Crowe had journeyed thither to suggest Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, on behalf of the Cook county leaders, that he pull down his governorship lightning rod and decide to run again for attorney general.

Gossip of Emmerson.

The second chapter of the rumor was that the Crowe-Thompson group was thinking of lining up behind Secretary of State L. L. Emmerson for governor, on the basis of an understanding that one of his campaign planks would be reappointment and a pledge to work to get equal representation for Chicago and other industrial centers in the general assembly.

The rumor gained in elaborations as it was passed along, and tonight politics is running Chicago transit & neck and neck race as a topic.

Mr. Crowe, however, rather threw a wet blanket over the festivities. He declared he had not seen either Mr. Emmerson or Mr. Carlstrom and that state politics was the item farthest from his thoughts. He said he had come down to help the mayor on the revenue bills, and that if Cook county leaders made him a candidate for a governorship candidate, it was with his knowledge. He added that he certainly would have heard of it if it were in the wind. Mr. Carlstrom was not Springfield today.

Emmerson Grows Stronger.

Despite the genials, however, the rumors that Emmerson is growing stronger among the Chicago leaders continues to grow. The Emmerson shouters did not discourage it—quite the contrary.

The gossip was that the defeat of Gov. Small Monday in the judicial elections in which Justice Clyde Stone was reflected in the face of all the patrons of the law, the governor could bring to bear against the man in which Circuit Court Judge Arthur W. De Selby was reflected in the governor's home district, despite the antagonism of the small machine, has weakened Small among the politicians.

For weeks an absorbing question has been whether Mayor Thompson and Gov. Small will get together politically. From all indications the mayor has refrained from commitments. His intimate friends declare he is footloose on state politics.

All Court Chicagoans.

Small, Emmerson, and Carlstrom have all been courting the good graces of the Thompson-Crowe organization. Emmerson went on the road trip, while Carlstrom during the mayoralty campaign was acclaimed at Thompson meetings as a gubernatorial candidate. The corridor talk this evening was that Mr. Carlstrom's attitude in the settlement of the Small case has served to swing some of the Cook county leaders, who were friendly with both Carlstrom and Emmerson, towards Emmerson.

As to the dinner invitation from Small to Thompson, it was said it was only a courtesy. But this did not prevent tongues from wagging on the topic of what might be in the talk on politics. Before Small and Thompson could get together, it was conjectured by the politicians the governor would have to get rid of Fred Lundin and his protege, Dr. John Dill Robertson. Lundin, however, is apparently still as high with Small, and he has been putting in all the plugs he can to prevent the two from getting together.

The theory is enunciated that the candidate who gets the support of the Chicago and Cook county organization will be the probable winner this time, and the talent for weeks has been conjecturing that in the closing days of the session, gubernatorial politics may be tied up in the deals and vote swappings over the big bills.

FALLS THREE FLOORS TO DEATH.—A large oil painting of George Washington, paid for with $85 of his ice cream money, and copied by a Chicago artist at Joe's order from a portrait in the Art Institute, was hung in the seventh grade room of the Dore elementary school, where he is a pupil. ## JOE GIVES HIS NICKELS TO SAVE G. WASHINGTON

Joseph Esposito is a thrifty boy. He earns his money by selling ice cream, and his savings mount.

Joe also is patriotic, and recent reports say that schools had been subsidized by King George disturbed him.

Likewise the substitution of a picture of the signing of the declaration of independence for George Washington's portrait on the frontispiece of his history book troubled him. He knew a lot about George Washington and little about declarations.

So Joe's mighty resolve. He will sell more ice cream, save the nickels, and put George Washington back in the school.

SENATE RUSHES 2 TRANSIT BILLS TOWARD PASSAGE

Final Vote Seen Today on Chicago Measures.

that he voted against the Allen bill. Those who voted for the Allen bill thought they saw no harm in it. The streets of Chicago belong to the people and we have no right to take them away from the people."

Calls Bill Vicious.

Referring to the Humphrey bill—the third bill—Barbour said "that bill was vicious. One reason was that there was hundreds of thousands of dollars here to pass it. The substitute I offer would permit the city council the power to grant franchises up to forty years, subject to a referendum."

"Mr. Barn introduced two years ago an indeterminate bill, but he saw it was bad and he withdrew it. The press of Chicago spoke over Sunday and he withdrew it. Under the substitute I proposed all the investment could be amortized in 40 years and I may say that the day is recent when any one could suggest 40 years without danger of lynching. The grant under bill #428, without amendment, is in effect perpetual franchise. The city should have the privilege of deciding whether it wants to grant a fixed term franchise."

Thompson Speaks at Hearing.

At the public hearing this afternoon the speeches of Mayor Thompson, Ald. McDonough, and Ald. Bowler made a favorable impression with the senators and house members.

McDonough came first with the presentation of the resolution adopted by his committee urging that the bills be passed.

"Thirty-eight aldermen signed that resolution," said McDonough, "seven others are out of town, I believe that the six of them would sign if here. We believe that the people will endorse a franchise ordinance prepared under these bills, and we know that the public is tired of traction as a football. I believe that the aldermen will not only vote for an ordinance under these bills but will go out later in their wards and ask the people to vote for it on a referendum. If the bills are amended as we have suggested the aldermen who have signed this resolution will support the bills."

Mayor Thompson's Views.

Mayor Thompson retold his transportation platform. He said he stood for the best possible transportation, lowest possible fare, best working conditions for employees, a fair return on money invested, and a referendum on any ordinance prepared.

"Some of the men who are financially interested in the properties called upon me and I told them my position," he said. "I told them that my platform before and after election is the same. Transportation is the heart throbs of the city. The better the transportation the better the city. What helps Chicago helps the state, and you men from downstate will be benefited to a greater or lesser degree as Chicago gains in prosperity."

"If you give Chicago the power I'll do my best to get our transportation straightened out. If you don't, the muddle will go on for another two years. But you may be certain Bill Thompson will never sign a bill unless a referendum is attached."

Transit Men Talk.

Patrick J. Lucey, former attorney general, who is the representative of the transit companies, put forward two speakers. One represented the Investment Bankers' association, and the other was A. E. Bryson of Halsey Stuart & Co. Both pleaded that an indeterminate franchise would aid in financing transportation.

The surprise speaker was Ald. Bowler. He said that the report that the street car unions opposed the bills is untrue.

"The matter was not even discussed at our meeting," Bowler said. "The 22,000 employees of the elevated and surface lines have no objections to these bills. They want them passed. They are tired of traction as a political football."

Attacked by Ald. Mills.

Alderman Wiley Mills, advocate of municipal ownership, said that these bills would prohibit city purchase.

"These bills will make purchase practically impossible," he said. "The city is given the right to purchase

DAY IN SPRINGFIELD

Mayor Thompson spoke for Chicago revenue bills in both houses, and on the transportation bills in the senate only.

SENATE.

Senate bills passed—Marks bill giving railroads more power to develop air rights; Barbour bill permitting Lincoln park system to take over small park systems on lake shore north of Devon avenue; Mason bill putting dyers and cleaners under state license; Barr bill permitting county boards to require wider streets in new subdivisions; Valley bill appropriating $25,000 for Joseph G. Cannon monument in Danville.

House bills passed—Prohibition coloring of dairy products by coloring not approved by United States agricultural department; bill appropriating $8,000 for Stephen A. Douglas monument at Winchester.

Senate bills advanced—Barr bill giving Chicago more power to build subways; Barr bill repealing bill providing 20 year street railway franchise; omnibus appropriation bill totaling $60,000.

Senate bills introduced—Four bills by Carlson to adjust tax rates in conformity with new valuations; by Leonardo limiting power to appoint special state attorneys.

HOUSE.

Senate bills passed—McDermott bill giving Chicago power to fill in Bubbly creek.

Senate bills passed—Curran bill, appropriating $25,361,880 to state treasurer for biennium; appropriations committee bill appropriating $11,000 for city judges salaries, emergency; appropriations committee bill increasing executive reward for fugitives from $200 to $1,000; Steven school teachers' pension bill; Branson bill permitting examiners in mines, during blasting; Brinson bill setting standards for black powder used in coal mines.

without the financial power. The bills make it highly probable that the fare must be increased, because they will be increasing capital until it will become mountain high."

Carl D. Thompson of the Municipal Owners' association said the bills would strengthen "the greatest monopoly in the state."

John Maynard Harlan, attorney for the Lissman plan, made several charges. One of them is that the bankers who sold the securities of the surface lines sold them on false pretenses. He explained the bankers had represented them as "quasi-municipal securities" which he said is absolutely untrue.

His Perpetual Franchise.

"You have no moral right," shouted Mr. Harlan, "regardless of what your legal power may be, to say that Chicago must grant a perpetual franchise and nothing else. This indeterminate franchise is a perpetual franchise."

"I am talking to men. I'm not talking, as I did here twenty-five years ago, when Yerkes bossed the legislature, controlled the city council and, by his will alone, produced a gun bill on the lip of the speaker of the house. Yet all that we have then was to pass the Alder bill. It was not a perpetual franchise, but the men who voted for it went to their graves in humiliation and disgrace."

"The plan to terminate this perpetual franchise by mislead and non-user is a delusion and a snare. The same is true of the city's right to purchase under these bills."

Asks for Home Rule.

"You should pass a bill granting home rule. Then if you insist upon an indeterminate permit give the city also the power to pass a fixed term franchise for 20, 40 or 50 years, as your judgment dictates."

"I am not speaking now for the Lissman plan. It will operate as well under an indeterminate permit, as under a fixed term franchise. Under the Lissman plan, the surface lines can be amortized out in thirty years."

"If you pass the pending indeterminate franchise bill, the surface lines will be given a perpetual franchise. Later, the state will appropriate the franchise, and later the properties will be placed under the interstate commerce commission, where Mr. Insull wants them."

Lucey Criticizes Harlan.

Mr. Lucey devoted much of his time to criticizing Mr. Harlan.

"As a boy I heard William Jennings Bryan tell of the wickedness of the Wall street bankers and brokers," he said. "You have heard gentleman today, who has not been a resident of Chicago for fifteen years, but whose heart now bleeds for the city. But he has been in Chicago for six months representing a Wall street banker."

"Aren't the National City bank and J. P. Morgan in Wall street?" interposed Harlan.

"My client is not in Wall street," said Lucey.

"Your client, according to who's who, takes half bankrupt properties and makes money out of them," said Lucey.

"That's not true," shot in Harlan.

"My clients are residents of Chicago," went on Lucey. "The charge that these transportation properties will be placed under the interstate commerce commission is ridiculous. Such a charge is belittling your intelligence."

HOLDS UTILITIES LIABLE

The question whether utility companies shall pay for the removal and relocation of their conduits, wires and other underground equipment to make way for the construction of subways was under consideration in the state senate yesterday. At the same time the corporation counsel's office had issued an opinion that the law already provides that the companies must bear this cost.

"We beg to advise that the general rule, very clearly established, is that public utility companies take their rights in the city streets, distinctly subject to the right and duty of the city to improve and regulate the use of its streets," the opinion states.

As an instance, the opinion cites the 22d street widening, where the city demanded relocation of three car tracks at a cost of $300,000. The companies agreed to pay for the work and the Supreme court ruled that the same principle applies to all types of utilities.

"That it applies to subway construction we have no doubt," the opinion continues. "It is clear that the rule is established independently of any legislative enactment and there is, therefore, no occasion to refer to it in such legislation."

SENATE PASSES CHICAGO BILL TO GRANT AIR RIGHTS

Springfield, Ill., June 7.—(Special)—The Senate has passed a bill on three bills today of interest to Chicago. The first was the Marks' bill permitting railroads to construct streets and other municipal facilities over their tracks preparatory to air right development.

"It will add millions to the value of railroad terminal trackage in Chicago, but air right development will be of enormous benefit to that city," said Senator Boehm, "and consequently I favor it."

"The rights are needed by the Northwestern railroad in the location of the Marshall Field wholesale house above its tracks," said Senator Barbour. "The Union station needs them also in giving proper facilities to the structure of the Daily News building above its tracks."

"The Illinois Central will spend several millions on new streets and boulevards above its tracks north of Randolph street," added Senator Marks. "This bill will encourage investment and tend to wipe out the excesses of large, with tracks in the central business district."

This bill passed, as did the Barbour bill permitting the Lincoln park board to take over the park districts along the lake shore between Devon avenue and Evanston. After the Lincoln park board passes a resolution providing for the annexation of the residents of the park districts will be up to the city. If it is up to the Lincoln park system will take over all the taxes, debts and property of the small districts.

The third Chicago bill was the advancement from second to third reading of the Chicago zoological bill in the senate after it had passed the house. This extends the time two years in which the society can obtain money to build and equip the gardens near Riverdale.

Man has three feet

Every Man and Woman on the Face of the Earth
Whose Feet Are Not Deformed Has One of Three Distinctly Defined Types of Feet

Tru-pe-dic Shoes are scientifically standardized and endorsed by the American Posture League

The American Posture League is a Nationally known health organization, consisting of 1,000 of America's foremost physicians, scientists, hygienists and physical instructors, gratu-tously giving their time for Humanity's sake.

At the very beginning of its study of the various ills known to result from incorrect posture, the League was profoundly impressed with the prevalence of fallen arches, flat feet, corns, bunions, weak ankles and other foot troubles responsible for impaired health and inefficiency. The enormous number of men rejected from service in the World War on this account was proof enough that there was something radically wrong with the Nation's feet. To find out just what was wrong the League's scientists undertook what was probably the most thorough study ever made of the human foot. Careful tracings were made of a hundred and nineteen thousand feet to learn what position they assume when resting squarely on the ground and bearing the full weight of the body.

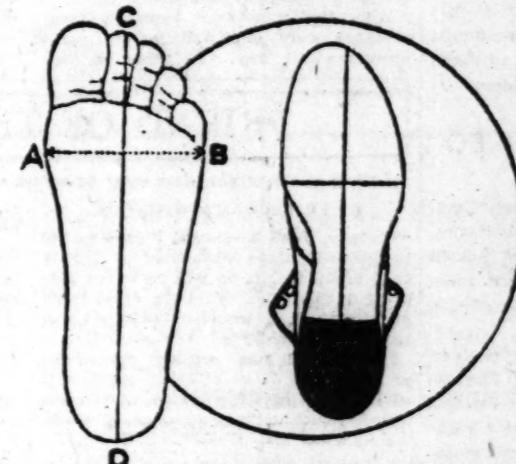

The tracings included the feet of many races in all walks of life. Among them were feet that had worn shoes from infancy as well as feet from India, China and the jungles of Africa, most and never known the feel of leather. Upon comparison of these tracings it was at once apparent that all normal human feet were divided into THREE DISTINCT TYPES, DEPENDING ON WHETHER THE WEIGHT OF THE BODY FALLS MORE ON THE OUTSIDE OF A LINE DRAWN FORWARD FROM THE CENTER OF THE HEEL OR MORE ON THE INSIDE, OR WHETHER IT IS ABOUT EQUALLY DIVIDED ON EITHER SIDE OF THE LINE. Some feet, it was found, flared outward from this line at the ball, and these were given the name of "Outflare." Other feet flared inward at the ball and they were called "Inflare." Still other shoes are exactly equal or almost equal division of the forefoot by the line drawn from the heel base, and these were designated "Straight Feet." Of many thousands of feet of American adults examined 30% were on the "Straight," 14% on the "Inflare," and 56% on the "Outflare" type.

These facts left no doubt of the utter impossibility of fitting all three of these widely different types of feet with shoes of any one shape. They showed the absurdity of thinking that a shoe fits because it corresponds in length and breadth with the dimensions of the foot. Quite evidently the shape of the shoe is of as great importance as the size. What must be done, the orthopedic experts of the American Posture League decided, was to build a shoe in three types of lasts to correspond to the "Inflare," "Outflare" and the "Straight" types of feet. Moreover the shank should be narrow at the heel and the upper part of the shoe to grasp and support the arch and keep the foot from sliding forward. Over the instep and in the waist the shoe should fit snugly, in order to better support the bones of the arch and buoy up the whole body. The shoe should be built so that the heel rests in a slight depression nicely adapted to the peculiar contour of that part of the foot, causing a natural arch, allowing the muscles and tendons to function.

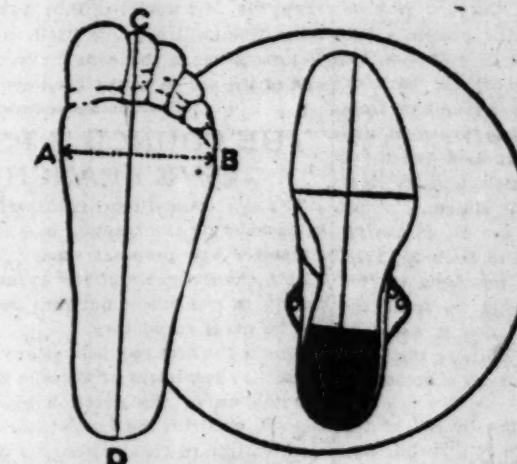

This scientifically correct shoe is made under the name of "Tru-pe-dic." Every pair bears the official label of the American Posture League, Inc., shown below, which not only marks each shoe with the official endorsement of the League but also designates the type—INFLARE, STRAIGHT or OUTFLARE. Look for this label. It is your protection as well as ours.

where more of the surface across the ball (A-B) is inside instead of outside the line (C-D).

STRAIGHT
where the surface across the ball
(A-B) is equal on either side of the line (C-D).

OUTFLARE
where more of the surface across the ball (A-B) is outside instead of inside the line (C-D).

TRU-PE-DIC SHOES are the only shoes in the world made in three types to conform to the three distinct types of feet discovered and charted by science, as shown in the diagram above. The fundamental difference in the three types is inside the shoe, where it is felt, rather than outside, where it is seen.

For this reason, Tru-pe-dic Shoes fit as no other shoes can fit, and bring quick relief from foot discomfort and troubles arising from misfitted shoes. Tru-pe-dic Shoes have been designed to give correct distribution of weight, and by proper balance to aid the normal action of the feet so that each bone and ligament and muscle will do its own proportion of the work as nature intended.

These remarkably comfortable shoes are being sold from Coast to Coast, in exclusive Tru-pe-dic stores in New York, Chicago, Washington, Indianapolis, Omaha and Los Angeles, having the endorsement of each city's professional authorities on the care of the feet.

WHICH TYPE OF FOOT IS YOURS? You are invited to come to the Tru-pe-dic Shoe Store and try on all three types. Your feet will tell you instantly which one is yours, and once correctly fitted you are comfortably fitted for all time.

WOMEN

Skillful hand workmanship gives to Tru-pe-dics the distinctive appearance and finely tailored lines so much desired by women of refinement. The new Tru-pe-dic Dress Models supplement your shoe wardrobe for occasions demanding fashionable footwear. Their modified corrective lines appeal particularly to women of social prominence.

MEN

Tru-pe-dic Shoes appeal to a man's instinct for sound investment. They are high grade shoes of true anatomical construction, combining comfort with good looks and require no "breaking in." Their quality and workmanship are the result of more than 50 years' experience in the making of fine shoes by the Churchill & Alden Company.

JUDGE RHYMES PARTED COUPLE TOGETHER AGAIN

Puts Recipe for Marital Bliss Into Verse.

A Little more kindness,
A Little less greed,
A Little more giving,
A Little less greed.
A rhythmic recipe for domestic tranquility was read from the bench yesterday by Superior Judge Joseph Sabath. He was trying to reconcile Gottlieb H. Hinderer, 60 years old, retired business man of Kankakee, Ill., and his estranged wife, Mrs. Margaret Hinderer, who is suing for separate maintenance.

A Little more smile,
A Little less frown,
A Little less kicking
A man when he's down.

Mrs. Hinderer, questioned by the judge, said there was nothing she desired more than to return to her home on the Kankakee river. But she wanted to be sure she would be welcomed by her husband. Mr. Hinderer, questioned in turn, testified he didn't feel as though he should extend an invitation to her to return until he had proved himself innocent of the cruelty charge she made against him in her suit. But, he added, "the latchstring will be out if she wants to return."

A Little more "we,"
A Little less "I,"
A Little more laugh,
A Little less cry.

Judge Sabath, instead of ruling on the alimony question before him, directed the couple to have dinner together at their Kankakee home tomorrow. It will be their thirteenth wedding anniversary. Her attorney, Benjamin B. Davis, said she will prepare the meal.

A Little more flowers
On the pathway of life,
And fewer on graves
At the end of strife.

WALKER, FORMER JUDGE, FREED IN LIQUOR SCANDAL

Former Municipal Judge Henry M. Walker and three others were freed of charges in connection with the South Chicago liquor scandal yesterday when Federal Judge George A. Carpenter allowed the motion of United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson to dismiss the two largest indictments against the four.

Charles Blaine, former bailiff to Municipal Judge Max Luster, and Policemen Michael Winn and Thomas Havigan were freed with former Judge Walker. Winn also was freed of charges on another liquor case.

Investigation of the evidence of both the South Chicago indictment, which named 74 defendants, and the Clevor indictment, which has 79 defendants, was reported to be continuing with a view to dismiss all defendants against whom the government prosecutors feel that they have insufficient evidence to convict.

REVENUE BILLS FROM CHICAGO STIR NEW ROW

Igoe Asks if There Is Deal Who Made It.

BY JOHN HERRICK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Springfield, Ill., June 7.—[Special.]—Once more charges of a deal between sponsors of the Chicago revenue bills and of the state income tax bill threw the house revenue committee into turmoil today. Representative Michael L. Igoe, minority leader, occasioned the outbreak when he demanded to know why the bills were going to be voted on today.

"Who says they're coming to an immediate vote?" Mr. Igoe shouted. "Are we to understand that Mr. Cutler is going to deliver on these bills?"

It was Representative Reed F. Cutler, majority floor leader, who precipitated the first committee rumpus by announcing prior to the consideration of the income tax bill that an agreement had been made whereby Cook county members would let the bill out of committee in return for favors to be granted the Chicago revenue bills in the senate.

Mr. Cutler denied that he had made any such statement, or that he had delivered any votes.

"Somebody was delivered on the income tax," retorted Mr. Igoe. "You know that the income tax bill was voted out, and if there is any deal on to saddle an income tax on Chicago in consideration for the passage of these revenue bills I want to know who made it."

Instead of getting a vote on the revenue bills an adjournment motion was carried and consideration postponed until tomorrow.

Thompson Talks of Schools.

Mayor William Hale Thompson appeared before the committee on behalf of the bills and succeeded, such was the comment later, in putting his foot in it. John L. Vette, attorney for the Chicago Real Estate board, had spoken and declared the plan was to issue bonds for school buildings.

Attorney W. H. Sexton, who drew the bills for the administration, denied that the eighty-seven revenue bills under consideration had anything to do with the school bond issue proposal.

Then Mayor Thompson came along and talked of nothing but the schools and the necessity of school building by bond issue, so that the school fund can be used for operating expenses.

Chicago faces the choice, said the mayor, of adopting such a plan or of cutting teachers' salaries. He declared it an improper system which paid for permanent improvements out of permanent taxes.

Boost in Bonding Power.

Attorney Vette claimed Chicago needs no such tremendous and immediate boost in bonding power. Within little more than three years he said, the retirement of bonds will release $27,000,000 worth of bonding power. The question of revenue is at hand with the change that the increased valuation will increase the city's bonding power $15,000,000 and he looked for better enforcement of the assessment laws.

Representative Howard P. Castle, one of the leading drys in the house, played a sudden coup today, when he rose on a point of order, referred to the house rules, and succeeded in sending the Weber resolution, demanding an inquiry into the Illinois Anti-Saloon league to the appropriations committee.

The Steven public school teachers'

NEW ORGANIZATION FORMED TO FIGHT U. S. RULE BY A "DICTATOR"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., June 7.—[Special.]—Articles of incorporation of the American Constitutional association, organized, according to its sponsors, to halt a plunge of the United States toward a dictatorship and regain for Congress the powers which have been usurped by the executive and judicial branches of the government, were filed today by J. C. Duke, a local attorney, H. L. Bushong, a chemical manufacturer, and Dr. G. C. Charlies.

The purpose of the organization, it was announced by Mr. Duke, listed as president, is to organize every congressional district in the country in a campaign against the growing tendency toward a total bureaucracy, which, he insists, is "destroying the power and influence of Congress, virtually wiping out state lines and making the states mere administrative divisions of the national government."

"Mussolini is dictator of Italy today," said Mr. Duke, "not exclusively because of any great ability or brilliance, although he has both, but because the Italian people lazily surrendered their political rights. The tendency of the whole world is to discredit representative government."

pension bill was passed by the house. It provides that any teacher with 25 years' service in public schools, fifteen of them in the service of one city, may voluntarily retire at the age of 65 and receive a pension ranging from $1,000 to $1,400.

$100,000 VOTED FAHERTY TO RUSH CITY'S BIG JOBS

Michael J. Faherty, head of the board of local improvements, won an appropriation of $100,000 yesterday with which to start his building program.

The expenditure, the largest part to go for engineers, clerks, legal and real estate experts, was voted by the local finance committee in the face of a warning from its staff that such an appropriation would cut a dangerous hole in the city's already depleted treasury.

Where is this $100,000 coming from?" John Richert, head of the staff, was asked.

"Heaven only knows—I don't," he replied. "The committee will have to find it."

Delay Is Voted Down.

Three members urged a delay, at least until the rate of the city's finance bill at Springfield is known, but they were promptly overridden by the Thompson leaders, who control a majority of the committee.

It was a glowing picture of progress, civic beauty, and the full dinner part that Mr. Faherty and the enthusiastic Thompson men held up before the committee.

"We have $20,000,000 worth of improvements, all ready to go ahead if you give us the help," said Mr. Faherty. "There are 632 miles of paving, 478 miles of sidewalks, and all of the big street widening improvements, including Ashland and Western avenues, LaSalle, Robey, and Halsted streets."

It would take a year and a half for his present staff to handle the work now before it. Mr. Faherty said, not to speak of the new improvements. About sixty new employees, he said, are needed at once. Most of them are to be placed in the special assessment department.

"I'm for voting the $100,000," said Ald. James Bowler. "I would be willing to have my salary held up for a year to pay it."

Jobs for the Jobless.

Ald. O. F. Nelson pointed out that the building program would put hundreds of men to work and help to solve the city's unemployment. If the city can put $20,000,000 into circulation by spending $100,000, he said, it ought to be done.

Ald. E. J. Kalind argued that it would be unfair to give such a large sum to one department when others had been repeatedly turned away. He proposed that the matter be held over until the mid year budget, July 1.

Ald. Guy Green and Ald. Dorsey were also opposed immediate action but after a full call, only the latter insisted that his vote be recorded as no.

The original appropriation to the board of local improvements for special assessment work, made Jan. 1 for 1927, was $50,000. If the council approves the committee's action, that sum will be tripled for the remaining six months of the year.

Value of Andrew Cuneo Estate Put at $1,100,000

Andrew Cuneo, uncle of Mrs. Robert E. Crowe, left an estate valued at $1,100,000, it was revealed in an inventory filed yesterday. Probate court—Mr. Cuneo, who was a commission merchant, died on Feb. 1. He was 70 years old. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Mary Araldo Cuneo, of 1364 North State street, and six children. The estate was vested principally in real estate.

ROBERT HILLIARD, MATINEE IDOL OF NINETIES, DIES

III 6 Years; Heart Attack
Is Fatal.

New York, June 7.—[Special.]—Robert Cochran Hilliard, known for years as the handsomest man on the American stage, died in his sleep at the age of 60. Death was caused by heart disease. He had been suffering for six years, however, from diabetes, and had been for the last eleven weeks confined to bed.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending arrival here from his post at the Boston navy yard of Mr. Hilliard's only son, Lieutenant Commander Robert Bell Hilliard.

Wife Survives Him.

In addition to his son, Mr. Hilliard is survived by his wife, the former Miss Olga Everard, daughter of the late James Everard, the New York brewer, from whom she inherited an estate of several millions. She was his third wife.

Bob Hilliard, who was famous for his witty address from before the curtain, was in his heyday in the early '90s. Then he was undoubtedly the most popular leading man on Broadway.

"The Girl of the Golden West" in which he played the leading part in 1905, is the play in which he is most likely to be remembered by the present generation. When it had ended its day on the boards, Mr. Hilliard appeared successively and with more than a fair degree of success in "A Fool There Was," "The Argyle Case," and "The Pride of Race." Then he retired for several years.

Returns to Vaudeville.

But the spirit of the theater was in his blood, and the autumn of 1921 saw him back again on the boards. This time it was in vaudeville at the 44th Street theater, where he appeared in "The Littlest Girl," which he himself had written from a story by Richard Harding Davis.

Union Buys $50,000
Groceries for Strikers

Benton, Ill., June 7.—[Special.]—Fifty thousand dollars worth of groceries have been purchased to be distributed to needy striking miners of this district and there is money where this came from to buy more provisions as they are needed, according to Lon Fox, district president. The groceries have been bought at wholesale and will be sent to Benton in car lots and will be distributed to the membership. There is to be no special assessment made for the relief work this year, President Fox said.

CLEAR WAY FOR 200 FT. '3 STATE' SUPER-HIGHWAY

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Cook county commissioners took their first official step toward building Chicago's 200 foot belt highway known as the Three States boulevard yesterday when they accepted the tentative location of eleven miles of the proposed highway in the northern county townships as recommended by the Chicago Regional Planning association.

This action is considered one of the final steps in the plan already sanctioned by road building agencies in Wisconsin, Illinois, and Indiana, to construct a great belt artery carrying two 40 foot one way pavements from 22d avenue in Milwaukee in a wide arc around the congested Chicago traffic zone and east along the Little Calumet river to Michigan City, with a branch extending into Laporte, Ind.

Busse Asks Approval.

The county board action came when Commissioner William Busse read a letter from Robert Kinkley, manager of the Planning association, outlining the proposed route of the road and introduced a resolution approving the route and directing that subdivision plats bordering the route be required hereafter to provide a 200 foot right of way for it.

The Regional Planning association has been active in promoting this belt road plan for more than a year. It took form first in a meeting of state and county highway officials who agreed that a wide belt highway diverting traffic from the congested centers around the foot of Lake Michigan is vital to the district's transportation scheme.

Pledges have been secured for all of the right of way needed in Milwaukee, Racine, and Kenosha counties in Wisconsin; in Du Page county, Illinois, and in Lake, Porter, and Laporte counties.

Route of Proposed Road.

As outlined by the association yesterday, the new 200 foot road will start in Layton boulevard, Milwaukee, and come south along the present line of Wisconsin highway No. 57—the Kilbourne road—crossing through Thompsonville and Greenfield to the Illinois line and meeting approximately the extension of the Telegraph road in Lake county, Illinois.

From that point it will continue

SCHOOL BUTTON SALE FOR IRONSIDES FUND PASSES $19,000 MARK

Same high school yesterday made the largest deposit in the mayor's Old Ironsides button campaign, it was announced by City Comptroller Charles C. Fitzmorris, chairman of the button committee. The leading schools were Bens with $204.98; Algonquin, $60, and Harrison Tech, $54.

Other schools total, including $507 received yesterday, is more than $19,000. Of the 345 schools receiving buttons 57 have not yet reported.

The United Irish society through its president, W. J. O'Connor, yesterday sent Mr. Fitzmorris a check for $50 for the Old Ironsides fund. The association had previously given $100.

URGES CHICAGO TO FILTER WATER FOR HOME USE

Filtration forms the surest and safest means of purifying Chicago's water supply, Myron B. Reynolds, acting city engineer, said last night at the forty-seventh annual convention of the American Water Works association in the Hotel Sherman.

"If Chicago continues to rely solely upon chlorination, a repetition of the outbreaks of typhoid fever of 1915 and 1922 will be invited," Mr. Reynolds said. "That cost three deaths and weeks of suffering to at least 240 of our citizens."

Mr. Reynolds said even ten miles off shore did not guarantee water absolutely free from pollution.

Mr. Reynolds suggested huge filtering plants costing a total of $30,000,000 to $50,000,000 be placed along the lake front by agreement between city authorities, the Lincoln park and south park commissioners. He said the filtration plants, and surrounding greenward could be made beautiful.

Mr. Reynolds said tons of factory waste are diverted into Lake Michigan through the Indiana Harbor ship canal and from oil refineries in Whiting.

9 WISCONSIN U. FRAT MEN OUT ON CO-ED'S STORY

University of Wisconsin men students have withdrawn from school as the result of the recent investigation of alleged relations with a girl student, according to President Glenn Frank.

The nine men are said to have withdrawn at the request of the disciplinary committee. The girl, a sophomore, also has left school.

According to the disciplinary committee, the girl was found in a fraternity house with a number of fraternity members. A faculty member of the fraternity reported the matter to university authorities, and the girl was called in for questioning. Her diary contained the names of scores of men.

As a result of the investigation, President Frank has announced a new policy for the university in that all student groups, fraternities, and sororities will be held directly responsible for the acts of their members.

AUTOS END LIVES OF TWO CHILDREN AND TWO ADULTS

Holds Parents Responsible for Child Actors; Fines One

Parents and not theater owners are responsible for child actors and actresses performing on the stage when they should be home in bed, Judge Peter M. Schwab declared yesterday.

Judge Schwab fined Samuel Kouszner, 2324 Douglas boulevard, father of 6 year old Gilbert Kouszner, singer and dancer, promising to remit the amount, if the boy was kept off the stage. Marx Brothers theaters, which was co-defendant, was fined $100 for violation of the child labor act, also with the promise to remit.

BOARD TO VOTE ON M'ANDREW QUIZ BY CITY COUNCIL

Supt. William McAndrew's status with the new Thompson school board will be tested this afternoon when the trustees vote on a question of sending him to the city hall to be grilled by the council schools committee.

The pending vote, it is expected, will be cast by Trustee Theophilus Schmid, who was appointed by former Mayor Davis and taken into the Thompson fold just before the school election two weeks ago. Without Mr. Schmid the anti-McAndrew forces will be able to marshal only five votes. Mr. Schmid has said that he would not vote to oust Mr. McAndrew.

Contributing to the delinquency of two small girls, he transferred to the principalship of the Peabody school will be made to the board today by Supt. McAndrew. The board also will receive his recommendation that William W. Norton of Flint, Mich., be elected director of music.

Never this uncertainty with Electric ICE

SELF-DEFROSTING (exclusive Belding-Hall Electric ICE feature) insures safe food protection, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. There are no bothersome ice-melting "defrosting periods" to deprive you of proper refrigeration every few weeks.

The reason is that, on an Electric ICE freezing unit, frost never thickens into ice to spread odors, block circulation of air, or require machine to operate more frequently.

Only Electric ICE keeps the air safe, dry and cold without removing natural moisture from fresh vegetables, fruits, meats, etc. Belding-Hall's 45 years of refrigeration experience perfected Electric ICE. Investigate the results.

Simplicity!

Another exclusive Electric ICE feature. Two simple parts take the place of many. Results: Amazing economy of operation, absence of wear, long life and freedom from trouble.

W DIVORCE PACT OF MARCONI'S BARED BY SACRED ROTA

Shows Basis for Papal Annulment.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, June 7.—Senator Marconi's divorced wife, the former Hon. Beatrice O'Brien, went through with the marriage ceremony convinced that her union with the Italian inventor would be a lasting one, she said in the evidence examined by the sacred rota before giving the senator an annulment. This was revealed today when the process which led to the papal annulment of the marriage was published.

Despite her feelings, her mother insisted that Sig. Marconi agrees to a divorce, if ever the marriage proved unhappy, the former wife said. This was done because Senator Marconi was baptised a Catholic.

Marconi Tells of Agreement.

Sig. Marconi, in his testimony, said: "During the time of my engagement I began to have serious doubts as to whether the proposed marriage would be a happy one for the reason that I began to fear that Miss O'Brien did not love me enough.

He had the impression that Miss O'Brien thought it would be wrong to contract indissoluble matrimony, as required by the Catholic church, she would not have consented to it. The reservation which I had made to resort to divorce was not a vague idea, but was expressed in my decision to have recourse to divorce in case my marriage was unhappy. My wife agreed with me absolutely, so that the marriage was concluded with this convention of reciprocal understanding."

How Ex-Wife Explained Case.

The former Signora Marconi deposed:

was quite opposed to this marriage for reasons of nationality, and before it appeared to have been agreed upon without sufficient consideration. I did not return the engagement ring, as my relatives insisted, because I insisted I felt I loved him enough to marry him.

"Sig. Marconi had promised my mother that in case of a disagreement he would agree to a divorce."

The sentence of the sacred rota on the basis of these and other declarations was decided according to Canon 1,013 of the code of Canon law which provides that a man can be divorced in the first essential basis, marriage, according to the Catholic church, is indissoluble.

The judges declared it was evident that any condition which opposed an indissoluble marriage invalidated the de jure marriage because it rendered the agreement defective.

BUSINESS BOOMS AS NEW ORLEANS WATCHES FLOODS

City Undamaged; Trade Is on Increase.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., June 7.—[Special.]—With the waters from thirty states flowing by its doors and spread out over some of its richest lands, New Orleans is taking care of its own troubles nicely and is asking merely that the nation as a whole may come to look upon the Mississippi flood problem as its own.

Two weeks ago it seemed as if the sugar crop for the year would be over-estimated. Now, it is said, the crop reduction in the sugar bowl will be not more than 25 per cent.

Reports from the northwestern section of the state grow more encouraging

as to cotton and other crops, but no accurate estimate of the situation will be possible until the latest flood water is out.

June is looked for as the new peak. In the meantime the barometers of the city's business, bank clearings, debts and port tonnage show an increase over the corresponding period

last year.

Crevasses Saved City.

All danger to the city was passed

when the artificial crevasses were opened in the levee 11 miles south of the city, creating a relief spillway that made a lake fifty miles long in what had been farm and swamp land. New Orleans business men have underwritten losses to the farmers of the section to the extent of an estimated three or four million dollars, but there is a hope that aid from government and state will take care of this.

The water is pouring over the crevasses with a roar like a small Niagara. The inhabitants still cling to the edge of the inundated land, and spend their time fishing and picking crayfish by the sack load. In this district bear, deer and other animals sought refuge from the flood together.

Morgan City, two hours west by rail, is still under water, with a 9 mile curving stretch of the Mississippi river kept back by a dike. Business is fair in the stores and the people are preparing to carry on as usual as soon as the waters are off the land. Much of the best plantation land has been saved by private building of back-water levees, much after the principle of back-firing in a forest fire. Some of these levees will hold back six and seven feet of water.

New Levee Types.

Peculiar formation of the levee wall at the McCree's crevasses opposite Woodside on the Atchafalaya river kept the flood from reaching the town, though it came close to it.

Some of these levees will hold back six and seven feet of water.

One reservoar at the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi is proposed.

Mother Sues for Divorce; Daughter Asks Annulment.

Mother and daughter came into the divorce courts together yesterday, each seeking a legal separation from her husband, Mrs. Mattie Williams of the Rienzi hotel, the mother, is asking a divorce from Thomas E. Williams, New York theatrical producer, alleging that he deserted her in 1912.

The daughter, Mrs. Hannah Williams Kaley, whose age is given as 16, is trying to annul her marriage last Friday to Charles Kaley, singing director of a now defunct side moving picture theater.

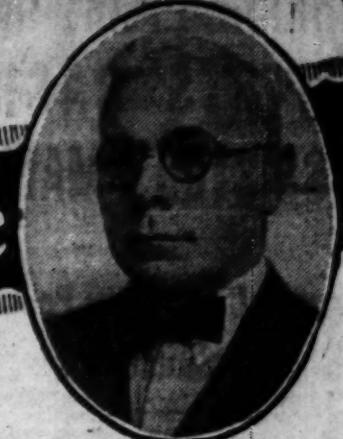

The levee system will be depended on in the future, of course. The shortcoming of the system as a whole is its lack of completion, according to engineers. The question is now being earnestly debated as to whether a single channel can be depended upon to carry any possible flood from the mouth of the Red river to the gulf, or whether additional outlets or spillways should be provided. Another proposal is for a reservoir upon the principal tributaries to hold back the water for power and navigation and to avert just such a flood.

One reservoar at the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi is proposed.

CHARGES PART OF EXPERTS' CASH ASSISTED SMALL

Lawyer Cites 1920 Political Situation.

Gov. Len Small's 1920 campaign yesterday was brought into THE TRIBUNE's suit to recover $1,673,000 for the city from the sums paid to real estate experts during Mayor William Hale Thompson's second administration. Attorney William Wilson argued before Circuit Judge Hugo Friend that evidence ultimately reached the treasury of the Thompson-Lundin machine, which was financing Small's campaign, among others.

Charged Political Plot.

THE TRIBUNE, acting as a taxpayer, contends that a conspiracy existed among Mayor Thompson, Michael Farley, and George F. Harding and the experts for two purposes. As stated by Mr. Wilson, the purposes were "to divert city funds for private gain and for the financing of the Thompson-Lundin machine."

After declaring that the huge funds for fees could not have been withdrawn from the city treasury without concerted action of its officials, Mr. Wilson said:

"Now what was happening? Parallel to the conduct of the financing of the City Beautiful improvement was the financing of the Thompson-Lundin machine in the city, county and state wide primaries and elections in 1920.

Partisan Funds Grow Lean.

The leaders who were handling the financing of the machine were members of Thompson's cabinet, which included Harding and Farley. Another thing, as the campaign funds grew lean, the warrants waxed fat.

"Why, we have an interlocking directorate between the common enter-

COOLIDGE TO APPOINT ONE OR TWO JUDGES BEFORE VACATION

Washington, D. C., June 7.—(AP)—President Coolidge will appoint one and possibly two federal judges before leaving Monday on his vacation.

The posts expected to be filled are those in the newly created eastern district of Michigan and northern district of California. Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition cases, is among those whose names have been presented for the California judgeship.

A vacancy also exists in the federal judiciary in Hawaii.

RECOVER PART OF LOOT TAKEN FROM GEORGE ADE HOME

Peoria, Ill., June 7.—(Special)—An Egyptian scarab ring, said to be more than 2,500 years old, and other antique jewelry valued at thousands of dollars was recovered from two prisoners in the county jail this morning. The jewelry was lost from the Indiana home of George Ade, the humorist, Rex Meadows and Fred Allis, Brook, Ind., youths, had the rings in their possession.

Officers from Brook obtained statements from the pair which it is believed will lead to the recovery of much of the rest of the booty.

The rings are a portion of a collection of Egyptian in the Ade collection he made a tour of the world in 1900. Since that time the antique collection has been augmented until it is one of the most famous in the world.

The youths did not realize the value of the jewelry and when searched were about to throw the prized antiques away. Even the local officials placed no value on them.

SOLONS REACTING AGAINST GAS TAX PRESSURE BY RICH

Line Up to Fight Measure Assessing Poor.

Wealthy land owners in Illinois are bringing every influence to bear on legislators to swing them into line for Gov. Small's amended gasoline tax, which would inflate the value of country estates at the expense of automobile owners in towns and cities, according to detailed reports which reached the motorists' protective bureau of the Chicago Motor club yesterday.

This pressure, it was declared, has swung a few representatives into line for the administration, but has reacted heavily against the chances of passing the proposed 2 cent levy on each gallon of fuel bought in the state.

Three Voice Opposition.

Three representatives from the 41st district, which includes Du Page and Will counties, have signified their intention to vote against the bill. They are Lottie Holman O'Neill, John M. Jenco, and Michael Henebry. Their opposition was announced at a mass meeting called by the Du Page county board of supervisors in the Wheaton High school Monday night.

At this meeting, attended by 500 motorists, county officials, and visiting supervisors from Lake and Will counties, the Du Page board went on record against the proposed tax. Speakers declared that the revenue raising scheme to boost property values at the cost of flier owners should be killed in the legislature and traced again the limitations which would bring but a small part of the tax back to counties to be used on relatively unimportant roads.

C. M. Hayes, president of the motor club, in tracing the proposed gas tax benefits to big interests, added a number of country estates to the list of those expected to gain in value from the tax.

Gift to Millionaires.

A legislator who votes for the gas tax bill is in reality voting to take money from the pockets of motorists in moderate circumstances and from little business houses and to put it on the estates of millionaires through increased land values," he said.

"There is, for instance, the famous Joy Morton estate of 2,600 acres near Lisle. This is located on two roads already built by motor fees, the Joliet and the Butterfield roads. The latter road is under contract now. In building secondary roads and state roads with gasoline money, the tax would increase both the value and profits of this rich estate."

Baroness Killed, Husband Hurt in Auto Accident

BIDDEFORD, Maine, June 7.—(AP)—Baroness Oranmore and Browne was killed and her husband, Baron Oranmore and Browne were seriously injured when their automobile skidded and collided with a motor bus near here. Their chauffeur and a woman secretary were seriously injured.

DAWES OPPOSES SENIORITY RULE FOR DIPLOMATS

St. Louis, Mo., June 7.—(AP)—The new world diplomacy of greater rank and more direct negotiation has made no room for the United States carefully to choose its high diplomats.

Vice President Charles G. Dawes declared here today at commencement exercises at Washington university.

Opposing a hard and fast seniority rule in promoting men who have chosen diplomacy as a career, Mr. Dawes asserted that if this country was to maintain its prestige and properly protect its interests in the new order of things, its important diplomatic representatives must be men who have been known to meet emergency responsibilities in times of emergency.

He defined the new diplomacy as "involving more direct and personal negotiations by those highest in authority and great frankness in the mutual revelation and discussion of respective domestic difficulties in the way of reasonable and just international agreements."

The success of the London and La-carne conferences could not have been achieved without the new method, he asserted.

Never before in peace time, he said, have able men been participating in European diplomatic conferences. For the routine diplomatic work in peace time, he continued, it might be well enough to have "green men," but the tactology engendered by a peace time career in diplomacy often is fatal to diplomatic competency in important emergencies.

"Career men, capable of a career, can be and now are being used in our diplomacy, but care must be taken lest the development of a right of seniority in promotion, which ruins the effectiveness of the peace time army when thrust into war, does not have its dire results on the future of American diplomacy."

He said the war experience demonstrated the "incalculable damage which may be done at critical times by small men in high places," and as-sserted the new diplomacy was bound to have profound influences on the betterment of international understanding and relationship.

CHANG'S WIVES SELL GEMS FOR FAMINE VICTIMS

Many Starve to Death in China War Zone.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

[Copyright 1927 by The Chicago Tribune.]
PEKING, China, June 7.—All western Shantung is starving as a result of the raids by troops of the warring armies. Travelers report thousands of country folk have reached the Tientsin-Peking railway in a search for food and have died along the railway embankment.

The situation is so serious that Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian war lord and boss of Peking, is sending 2,000 tons of grain to Shantung, though he fears that it will never reach the people, since the troops have not been paid.

Gen. Chang Chung-chang, Shantung military leader and ally of Chang Tso-lin, has ordered his wives and concubines to sell their jewels in order to provide food for the poor. He fears a raid by the starving people on the capital, Tsinan.

Find City Evacuated.
NATIONALIST BATTLEFRONT, SUCHOWFU, Kiangsu Province, June 7.—[Courtesy to Shanghai]—Gen. Chang Kai-shek's nationalist troops were surprised to find Suchowfu, the strategic point for defending the Shantung borders, already evacuated by the troops of Gen. Chang Chung-chang before the arrival of the nationalists. Other northern troops occupying northern Anhwei province, west of here, also retreated without a fight, clearing the land east of the west of the Shanghai railway, and ending the combat between the troops of the Nanking and Hankow factions for the first time since the split in the ranks of the Kuomintang over the communism question.

A representative of Feng Yu-hsiang, the Christian general, has informed Gen. Chang that Feng's troops have occupied Chengchow and Kialing, in Honan province.

Three Armies Drive at Peking.
Gen. Chang told THE TRIBUNE that the nationalists' drive on Peking is being made by three armies—that of Yan Hsichan, from Shantung province, that of Gen. Feng, moving northward from Honan province along the Peking-Hankow railway, and Gen. Chang's own army, moving northward along the Shanghai-Peking railway, with Tientsin as the first objective.

For 72 years a Tribune advertiser Greenebaum Sons have doubled their business every five years!

The Investment House of Greenebaum occupies the bank floor and five other floors in this ten-story structure in the heart of Chicago's financial district.

THE Investment House of Greenebaum has placed hundreds of millions of dollars in more than 55,000 loans or bond issues on real estate. This sum represents many thousands of residences, apartments, industrial and business structures—a large slice of modern Chicago.

The story of the success of Greenebaum Sons in the first mortgage bond business is a record of conservative banking methods coupled with the stimulating power of advertising.

Greenebaum Sons have been advertising continuously in The Chicago Tribune since 1855. Their business has broken all previous records during the last fifteen years. It has doubled its volume every five years during that period, until today it is the largest individual user of financial advertising in Chicago. Greenebaum places more advertising in The Chicago Tribune than in all other Chicago newspapers combined.

Mr. Walter J. Greenebaum, Vice President of the company, says: "Our sales records, back to the beginning of the business, show a steady growth always in proportion to our advertising expenditure. Today we are going ahead with a greater advertising schedule than last year, and so far our sales have measured up.

"We were the first bond house in the United States to attach a coupon to a financial ad. We first tried this in a Chicago Tribune issue of fifteen years ago in order to measure accurately the pulling power of Tribune advertising. We tried coupons in other papers and found that The Tribune led all the rest by a wide margin.

"We are continually trying out other Chicago newspapers by means of coupons and we have found that The Tribune today, as then, is still far greater in its result-producing power. This enormous ability to return results is the reason for our large expenditure in a single paper."

This conservative investment banking house, with the assistance of Tribune advertising, has increased its sales volume more than 400% in the last ten years, until today Greenebaum's volume is the largest first mortgage real estate bond business in Chicago. Many other institutions have found in Tribune advertising the secret of sales success. Not only in bonds, but in building material, in food products, household utilities, and thousands of other commodities, the Tribune makes sales.

During 1926 The Tribune printed 48.3% of all financial lineage printed in Chicago. The Tribune led the next paper by 1,235,020 lines. This is leadership, complete and overwhelming!

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

URGES C. & O. TO BUY STOCK IN TWO RAILROADS

Van Sweringen Testifies at I. C. C. Hearing.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service) Washington, D. C., June 7.—(Special)—Urging prompt action by the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Chesapeake and Ohio-Erie-Pere Marquette stock control case, O. P. Van Sweringen, chairman of the board of the Chesapeake and Ohio, today testified at the commission's hearing that he had agreed to sell his Erie and Pere Marquette stock to the Chesapeake and Ohio for $19,000,000 less than its present market value. He would willingly sell the stock for less than the price set up in the options or at cost, in order that there might be no delay in carrying the plan into effect.

Wants Prompt Action.
He urged prompt action, he said, because the option given by the Nickel Plate to the Chesapeake and Ohio on Pere Marquette shares would expire July 1 and in view of the fact that the present option price was not worth $5,000,000 more than the price quoted in the Nickel Plate option, it was presumed that the option would not be renewed at the original price.

Mr. Van Sweringen said he would renew his option to the Chesapeake and Ohio as to the Erie and Pere Marquette stock if so directed by him as often as might be necessary.

"In other words," he said, "I do not want any question which is purely personal to me to delay the determination of other questions so that there will be any chance of the Chesapeake and Ohio losing the benefits of this Nickel Plate option."

Question Van Sweringen.

Henry W. Anderson, chief counsel for the protesting Chesapeake and Ohio stockholders, questioned Mr. Van Sweringen as to details of the Van Eas company, a Van Sweringen company; the Special Investments company, which is controlled by the Nickel Plate; the new Chesapeake corporation, a $50,000,000 bond issue by the Erie, land transactions of the Van Sweringen interests, and other matters.

Mr. Anderson declared the purpose of his inquiries was to show that the protest he made was a step in a series of transactions which had resulted in material profits to the Van Sweringen and their associates in connection with control of railroad properties. He said he did not regard these acts as being in the public interest.

ALBANIAN APPEAL TO LEAGUE LAID AT ITALY'S DOOR

(Chicago Tribune Press Service) ROME, June 7.—The Italian government maintains an apparent attitude of unconcern regarding the Albanian Jugo-Slav controversy. From reliable sources, however, it is learned that the Italian government advised Albania to appeal to the League of Nations for a solution of the situation. It is said here that this move on the part of Italy is the best demonstration of Italy's intentions not to interfere with the internal affairs of Albania or make its authority felt in Albania's relations with other countries.

Belgrade Mobilizes Troops.
VIENNA, Austria, June 7.—(UPI)—Reports received by the Korrespondent here say that, while competent circles in Belgrade do not expect hostilities to result from the present strained situation between Jugo-Slavia and Albania, the Jugo-Slav capital has been "converted into an armament camp." A crown council has been summoned to consider the situation, the report adds, and troops are being drafted for the Hungarian, Italian, and Albanian frontiers.

Court Warns Federal Jury Not to Mar the Innocent

Federal Judge George A. Carpenter in swearing in the May federal grand jury admonished the jurors not to indict carelessly, leaving "marks on persons difficult to live down." The jury, like its predecessor, includes various prominent business men. J. Sanford Otis of the credit department of the Central Trust company was appointed foreman. Other members are: F. Carr, 289 Lake Shore drive; President of the Dearborn Chemical company; Alan Carson Dixon, 222 East Delaware place, and Walter Noble Gillett, 624 Abbottsford road, Kenilworth.

Writes Industrial History

Yellow Cab drivers have written a chapter in industrial history which carries many elements of interest and proves that the firmly imbedded rock is the one which "gathers the moss."

They are the kind of men who "stick" and give their undivided attention to their jobs. They are in no sense "birds of passage." Many of them have been steadily with Yellow Cab since its inception 13 years ago. The great majority have been with us for periods of time ranging from 3 to 5 and 8 years.

During their work for Yellow Cab, many have built homes of their own—many others have bought homes—and all of them have been enabled to give their wives and children many of the luxuries of life which had previously been impossible.

The great majority have been able to buy stock in the Company and thus acquire a personal and financial interest which has made them careful of their conduct, careful of the Company's property and reputation and careful of the people who ride with them. You can imagine how much these facts have helped to create an unparalleled cab service.

These men were chosen for their character. And we can use more like them. Such men can always find remunerative jobs driving Yellow Cabs. Doubtless there are many such men who would like to improve their condition, and they are cordially invited to call on our Mr. McLain, at the main office, 57 E. 21st street and talk things over with him.

We always want reliable men whom the public can swear by. That's one of our biggest assets.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

When Baby Complains.

There are many ways a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or digestion from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry. Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful. In these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a babe.

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Fletcher's. Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

Peril Government.

Greenville, Tenn., June 7. (AP)—A challenge to political leaders of all parties to make known their stand on prohibition was sounded here today by William G. McAdoo, Democratic presidential candidate in 1924, with a warning that efforts to nullify the eighteenth amendment is part of a movement menacing the foundations of popular government.

Addressing the students of Tusculum college at commencement exercises, the former treasury secretary declared the prohibition question presents a vital issue that responsible statesmanship cannot ignore and called for courageous leadership such as Andrew Jackson might display.

Calls It Practical Issue.

"Prohibition is a practical issue of the most vital kind in which the whole country is intensely interested and upon which it is looking eagerly for courageous leadership," he said. "The question is interwoven with some of the deepest and most challenging tendencies now at work in American life and which it is the imperative duty of responsible statesmanship to combat.

"The attack on the eighteenth amendment is but a part of a great movement which menaces all that is most American in our institutions. It is the fighting front of a cause that is dearer than the higher question. The conflict is: Shall the Constitution be nullified or shall it be enforced?"

"If free government means anything, it means precisely that issues of this kind should form the basis of party contests and popular decisions.

"The need for courageous leadership is peculiarly imperative today because under the surface of the political apathy and material prosperity in the country, developments of grave nature are in progress, which, if not impressed upon the public mind, may menace the perpetuation of American traditions and our very future as a free people."

Concern, Machine Politics.

"There has few years have witnessed a widespread revival and resurgence of corrupt machine politics. As the attention of the people has become more and more engrossed in their private affairs, their vigilance has relaxed and the old political machines which have held many of our cities in their grip since the days of Boss Tweed in New York and the Gas House ring in Philadelphia have taken advantage of the opportunity to renew their power."

"In political campaigns they have disrupted and paralysed one of our great political parties. The signs of their activity are all about it. They are apparent in the startling corruption and frauds which have marked the senatorial campaigns and elections in several states."

"Leadership like that of Andrew Jackson is imperatively needed to reaffirm in deeds that admit of no misunderstanding the true faith in the gospel of the great philosopher-statesman of Monticello."

INDICT HUSTON, 7 ASSOCIATES IN $5,000,000 FRAUD

Toledo, O., June 7. (AP)—Guy Huston, president of the Chicago Joint Stock Land bank and seven of their bank presidents, were charged by the federal grand jury with using the mails to defraud in an indictment of seventeen counts returned today.

Those charged with Huston in the alleged scheme, which is said to have caused the loss of $5,000,000 to individuals and companies interested in farm companies and banks of the Huston group, are:

W. C. Cross, president of the Kansas City Joint Stock Land bank. Harold A. Smith, president of the Southern Minnesota Joint Stock Land bank.

Oran F. Soher, president of the Des Moines Joint Stock Land bank.

John E. Huston, vice president of the Chicago Joint Stock Land bank.

John L. Boyles, secretary of the Chicago Joint Stock Land bank.

Vermon C. Sigler, member of the incorporation committee of the farmers' fund of Illinois.

Glenn W. Gold, former officer of the Minnesota Joint Stock Land bank.

The indictment charges that Dec. 3, 1925, these men "devised a scheme for obtaining money and property by false and fraudulent pretenses."

DETROIT & CLEVELAND NAV. CO.

THE Great Artist sang at his work when he modeled shore and mountain, green valley and desert and called it Southern California. He blew over it the breath of eternal springtime.

Think of a year-round balmy land where summers for half a century (U. S. Weather Bureau, official) have shown an average mean temperature of 69 degrees—and low humidity!

These official figures for Los Angeles, central city, are even bettered by records of the scores of gay beach communities that fringe the blue Pacific—the 271-mile "Riviera of America."

Here is a sportland, invigorating and joyful—the playland capital of the country! What do you enjoy best? Motoring? Golf? Swimming or surf bathing? Fishing, for deep-sea fighters or upland trout? Tennis? Polo? Yachting? Motor-boating? Horseback riding? Mountaineering? Camping? Dancing? Or just plain loafing?

Come to Southern California, and indulge in all your pastimes to the utmost. Or bring a book, and sit above a laughing sea, or on a mile-high crest—won by auto, afoot or by trolley—gaze upon miles of spreading orange groves, reaching forth to deserts of mystery and purple mountains of enchantment.

Come to this gala land, and see why artists love to paint it, poets sing it, and hard-headed business men and women linger in it to build, to raise families, to live fully and joyously.

Five thousand miles of paved boulevard invites you to new scenes of wonder. And there

FLATTERY COMES FROM FAR BACK TO COP FEATURE

Boller Boots Camden Colors to Front.

BY FRENCH LANE.

From far back there flashed a streak of red and black silks in the stretch, in the running of the one mile Prospect stakes at Washington park yesterday. This streak of red and black, almost last in a field of six when it began to loom prominently at the head of the stretch, kept coming nearer and nearer to the finish line in the stretch. It had come in to be a part of the rear guard. There was the same red and black coming faster and faster at every stride, gaining on the leaders. A half furlong out, the red and black streak flashed into the lead and stayed as the fleet band of 3 year old thoroughbreds passed the finish line.

Boller Wins on "Flattery."

These black and red silks were worn by Jockey Joey Boller, a Chicago boy. Jockey Boller was riding a 3 year old daughter of Light Brigade called Flattery, owned by former Senator Johnston N. Camden of Kentucky. In this mile Flattery was qualifying for the Illinois Oaks, to be run Saturday, and she qualified impressively when she was second, and three lengths in front of Dimples Dunkle and Bob Rogers at the finish.

Flattery did not improve her position until they turned for home, but she was still far to last when in advance of the sounder arrival. Then Boller straightened the Camden filly out for the battle down the stretch. She came to the front, so that Chaff was completely licked, and dropped back out of the money. Dimples Dunkle and Bob Rogers came along noses apart to divide up the slim end of the purse.

Pool Rides Two Winners.

Dividing the spotlight with Flattery and Boller on the best racing card of the Washington park season was the veteran Jockey Earl Pool, long noted for his ability to make 2 year olds run and win when he climbs into the saddle.

There were two of these juvenile events on the program, and when the final check was made it was discovered that Pool had accounted for both races. He gave the other riders a lesson on how to leave the barrier and how to keep his horse running when it came time to settle the issue in the stretch. Pool's first victory came on Scotland Girl in the first race, and because this Kentucky miss had turned in only an ordinary race on the opening day of the season, the players didn't give her much support. But she ran without blinders yesterday, and Pool had her so far in front before they hit the stretch that she was never in doubt. She coasted in well in front of Indra, with True Pal third. His next good ride came in the Jovial stakes, which was at five furlongs and

KESSINGER BILL RUMORS START RALLY IN GRAIN

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain markets are unusually sensitive to reports regarding political developments at Springfield, and rumors that the Kessinger bill had been killed, although not due to be brought up in the house of representatives until today brought in larger outside and general buying which caused a sharp upturn, the finish being 2 1/4% higher on wheat, with July $1.45 to $1.45 1/2, and September $1.44 to $1.44 1/2.

Corn was weak early, with July down to 38¢, stop loss orders being caught on the way down, but a rally of 3¢ from the low point followed when the legislative rumors became current, and the close was 5 1/2¢ higher, with July, $1.01 1/2 to $1.01 1/4, and September, $1.01 1/2 to $1.01 1/4.

Oats were weak early, with July down to 38¢, stop loss orders being caught on the way down, but a rally of 3¢ from the low point followed when the legislative rumors became current, and the close was 5 1/2¢ higher, with July, $1.01 1/2 to $1.01 1/4, and September, $1.01 1/2 to $1.01 1/4.

OIL PRODUCTION EXPANDS DESPITE LIMITATION TALK

BY O. A. MATHER.

Overproduction in the petroleum industry continues in spite of the recent much heralded conferences of oil company and government officials to work out a solution of the problem.

With the flush Seminole district in Oklahoma pouring out nearly a third of the country's oil production, and with operators there unwilling to agree to drastic restrictions, there is no incentive for oil producers in the other big fields to curtail. Therefore, the daily average gross crude oil output rose to 2,607,000 barrels last week, an increase of 9,000 barrels a day over the previous week, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

California Increases Output.

California is the nearest rival to Oklahoma in oil production and, with the latter's failure to restrict output, the fields yield increased their output by 10,000 barrels a day last week, paired with an increase of 4,000 barrels a day for Oklahoma. California operators appear determined to get their share of business as long as no general agreement on reducing production can be reached. Last week they delivered an average of 79,751 barrels a day at Atlantic and gulf ports, compared with 21,857 barrels a day in the previous week.

American Light Metals.

Directors of the American Light and Traction company yesterday declared the 50 per cent stock dividend on the $34,819,600 common stock recently voted by the stockholders. It is payable June 20 to stockholders of record June 18. Action on the cash dividend to be paid on the increased stock will be taken on July 5.

Stockholders of the South Porto Rico Sugar Company approved changing the common stock from 125,000 shares of $100 par value to 1,200,000 no par shares.

Four new shares will be exchanged for each old share and 144 new shares will be sold to stockholders at $30 a share on a pro rata basis. A 10 per cent stock dividend recently declared was sub-judged to the stockholders' action. It was provided that each preferred share shall have four votes for each vote to the new common shares.

Capital Increase Approved.

Stockholders of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey approved increasing the common stock from $25,000,000 to $70,000,000 by adding 30,000,000 shares of $100 par value. It also was voted to cancel the $10,000,000 preferred stock recently retired. Directors of the Frank G. Shattuck company voted to offer to stockholders 50,000 shares of non-par stock at $60 a share in the ratio of one share for each six shares held on June 16. The company's floating indebtedness will be paid off and the business expanded.

Extra dividends were declared as follows: Timken Roller Bearing, one-half of 1 per cent on common stock; Humber Oil and Refining, 20 cents; Consolidated Mining and Smelting, 5% a share. The Hober Aluminum and Brass company increased its annual rate from $1 to $1.50 by declaring a quarterly payment of 37¢ cents.

ALL-AMERICAN RADIO REPORTS $261,149 LOSS

The weaknesses of the radio industry again are evidenced in the annual report of the All-American Radio corporation, made public last night. The report covers the period from Dec. 31, 1925, to March 31, 1927, the company having changed its fiscal year to end in the spring.

Net sales for the 15 months ended March 31 were $1,284,551, compared with $1,152,720 in 1926, but cost of sales and expenses were $1,472,422, compared with $1,029,192. The final result was that the company had a net operating loss of $207,880 and a total deficit of $261,149, compared with net profit of $46,961 in 1926.

Partly to cover this loss, the company sold about $200,755 of marketable securities and increased its bank loans.

The balance sheet of March 31 shows current assets of $215,675, a decrease of $217,846, and a reduction of liabilities of $158,182, an increase of $30,920. Total assets were $744,866, a decrease of $277,949. The book value of the class A stock, 5% par value, was reduced from $17.94 to $12.33 a share.

"The last three months have given concrete evidence of decided improvement over conditions of a year ago," President E. N. Raufland says. "Sales exceeded last year by 55 per cent. Orders already booked for June indicate that shipments this month will more than triple those of June, 1926."

AN INSTITUTION TO BE PERMANENT MUST RENDER A SERVICE TO HUMANITY

We are not out of business!

1926 Was Our Biggest Year Since 1917

Few institutions in America—in the world for that matter—ever held a more enviable record for service to humanity than that of The Keeley Institute at Dwight, Illinois. Keeley's work of rebuilding men dates back over a continuous period of 50 years. Its patients number in the hundreds of thousands.

Is there any wonder then, at our surprise to learn how generally the impression has grown that The Keeley Institute is no longer in business? Especially, in view of the fact that in 1926 we treated more persons than during any previous year since 1917!

Our business is saving men. We are truly rebuilders of humanity. And so long as there are habits that destroy, there will be an urgent need for The Keeley Institute. Look around you. Did you ever see liquor causing more suffering, more destruction and misery than it is today? Did you ever know alcohol more deadly than that contained in the average drink of this modern era? No one doubts that whiskey now is many times more harmful than before. It is, as ever, one of the greatest problems of mankind.

Perhaps in your employ or among your friends there is an unfortunate whose life is being shattered by this seemingly unshakable habit. If so, the news that The Keeley Institute is still rendering its effective service will be welcome to you. You will see in this advertisement an opportunity to restore some discouraged person to his valued place in society. Write us today and learn the full facts about The Keeley methods of treatment. Or send us the name and address of some one whom you believe we may help. Complete information will be forwarded in a plain envelope and all correspondence will be held in strictest confidence.

Dangers of Alcohol Greater Than Ever Before

Reports from coroners' offices and from analytical laboratories in cities all over the United States indicate that only a small percentage of present day beverage alcohol is fit to drink. Most of it is composed of highly poisonous concoctions—balming fluids, wood alcohol and other deadly viands.

Metropolitan Life figures show decided upward trend in deaths from alcoholism, the figure for 1925 (2.9 deaths per 100,000 policy holders) being nearly five times the figure for 1920 (.6).

A recent report of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company showed that deaths from alcoholism during first three months of 1925 were highest in number for any three-month period since 1917.

Can anyone afford to permit a habit to wreck the destruction of these deadly poisons? No matter how much of a bold alcohol may have on you, it should be shaken off at once. The Keeley treatment is the only safe and sane method of escape. Write now for literature.

Some of Those Who Come to The Keeley Institute:

The Keeley Institute treats patients from every walk of life. Physicians, lawyers, farmers, business men and women, merchants, mechanics, engineers, contractors, carpenters, plumbers, and numerous other classifications are constantly represented.

This makes it possible for patients to associate with others of interests similar to their own. Many life-long friendships have been established during the short restful days spent in Dwight.

Don't be afraid to come to Keeley. The same hope that has been realized for thousands of others in your station of life will come true for you. Let us send you literature explaining everything. All inquiries treated in strictest confidence. No obligation.

Keeley recognizes the drink and drug habits as diseases that must be treated through specialized medical methods. Our successes include some of the most prominent men in the world. When a patient leaves Dwight he is absolutely freed of the craving for stimulants. His nervous system is

Sophy Tancred's Husbands

BY ELIZABETH YORK MILLER.

SYNOPSIS.

Sophy and Piers Tancred have lately taken the Villa Mona at Bordighera on the Riviera. Sophy learns that her former husband, Alan Brooke, the sculptor, is living nearby and that they are to meet at dinner that night. She is afraid of her husband's jealousy, since he thought she was a widow when he married her. She goes to Brooke's studio to warn him against telling Piers that they had been married.

Willie Moppet, a male gossip of Bordighera, interrupts them and Sophy flies back to the Villa Mona in fear.

At dinner Alan and Sophy meet as if for the first time, but the Princess Dobriani greets Sophie as Mrs. Brooke, recalling their studio days in Paris. Piers tells the princess she is mistaken. Sophie is his wife, not Alan's. Piers commissions Alan to make a bust of Sophie.

Willie Moppet arranges a concert to be held at the Doria hotel for his mother's company.

Celia Bryant, who has a lovely voice, will perform, but her mother is a widow.

After the concert there is a ball masquerade at the Casino to which Piers goes to take Sophie. She meets Alan Brooke there and promises to go with him.

The burglar comes. The police arrive. Sophie arrives at the Villa Mona before Piers and she interrupts a game of cards.

Willie Moppet used to scale the wall. Piers learns that Sophie had attended the ball masquerade.

He wishes to know what had spent the evening with Alan Brooke. Piers is furious and goes to Brooke's studio. He is told that Sophie has told him that her husband is about to go away and warns him to watch his wife.

Willie quarrels with Celia over Landell's attentions to her.

INSTALLMENT LII.

A TERRIBLE ACCUSATION.

Cissy turned suddenly and fled into the house, and then there was nothing left but Willie Moppet to do but go off down the back lane as he had said he would.

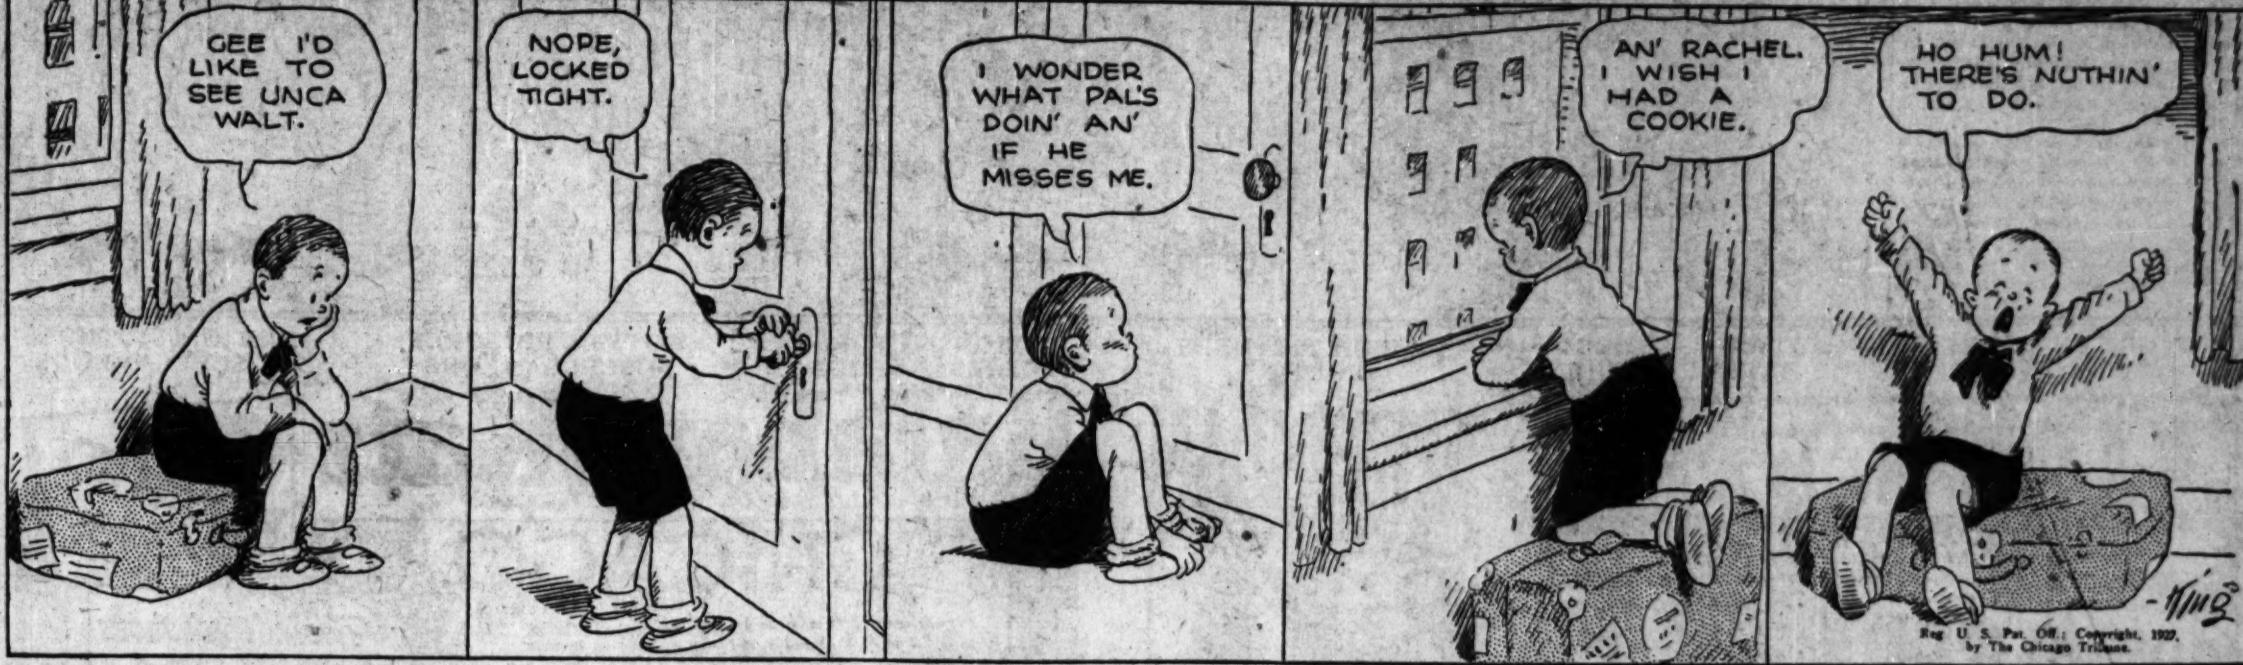

But it was great pity that he couldn't have seen Cecilia Bryant a moment later crying her eyes out in her bedroom, and calling herself such names as almost approximated the things he had thought of her.

"He said he would give me the keys of his heart, O, Willie, Willie! I am a beast to let him go off like that!" Cissy wailed to herself.

Then Mrs. Moppet's voice wafted to her and she hastily dried her eyes and dabbed her nose with powder before going down.

The grim assurance of Piers Tancred that he could look after his wife put a little heart in Cristina. She had faith in Piers—a man, that one!—as well as admiration for his excessively masculine charm.

After Piers had gone that afternoon, Cristina sat in the garden admiring the check. She liked the look and feel of the thing. That Piers Tancred meant it as a deep insult to Alan was ignored by Cristina, perhaps not even realized. It was crossed and marked "acct. payee only," so no benefit could

Good Morning!
This morning we sing of a brave engineer.
A tall, striking figure of virtue and cheer
Whose kind deeds and wages his relatives bless
And whose heart yearns to run the Black Diamond Express.
Now here's Dan Foster, no standing, no name,
And so Mrs. Harmon, an elegant dame, is firm in insisting that he hadn't a daughter.
Make love to her blonde and extravagant daughter.

Jeanne Harmon's grande passion for Dan's known no check,
Since they met one morning by mistake.
For Dan she has passed up her regular steady (a Mr. Truesell).
And says, "Dear, I'll wed you when you're ready!"
Goes mother in haste to the brave engineer.
And smiles sadly at him, and says with a tear,
"DON'T marry her, Dan, you'll just bring her to sorrow!"
She loves you today, but she'll hate you tomorrow.
So Dan with a sharp shooting pain in his heart,
Pratends he's a cad. Jeanne says, "Dan we must part,
A gentleman NEVER I see you will be!"
And hotfoots it back to her old fiance.

WELL—
Dan gets to run the Black Diamond express
And on his first trip there ride with him—Who? Guess.

Hoosier Is Nominated for Rotary President

OSTEND, Belgium, June 7.—(AP)—Arthur H. Sapp of Huntington, Ind., was unanimously nominated today for president of Rotary International, no other candidate being presented. Confirmation of his selection by ballot will take place on Thursday morning. The convention nominated the following to be directors: Raymond Knoepfle, New York; Leonard Skeggs, Youngstown, O.; Corney Garrettson, Wilmette, Ill.; Del. Robert H. H. Richardson, G. Palmer, Shreveport, La.; John B. Orr, Miami, Fla.; Norman Black, Fargo, N. D.; Walter D. Cline, Wichita Falls, Tex.; Joseph S. Royer, Quebec, Charles White, Belfast, Ireland.

It was very late, indeed, when they returned. Alan carrying the boy, who was exhausted, and Alan was tired, too, with good reason. They had got lost and met with an accident in an old quarry below Monte Nero, he said. He was covered with scratches and bruises. Giovanni had a badly cut hand, and both of them were scraped to the skin. Cristina had heard of that abandoned quarry which was well known to all. At the bottom worked a deep pool partially hidden by a slight fringe of undergrowth and the sides were steep and slippery. Once you lost a foothold you were bound to go slithering down into the pool, and that was what Giovanni had done, with his father after him. It was a mercy they were not both drowned.

A terrible thought struck Cristina as she clasped her whimpering little boy to her breast and hurried with him to the warm kitchen. Suppose Alan had come back without Giovanni? If such a thing had happened she would have believed the worst of him that a woman could ever possibly believe of her husband. Even now she wasn't so sure that Alan hadn't taken Giovanni to the old quarry with some such idea in his mind.

He followed her into the kitchen, and while she undressed and fed the sleepless child, she held him in her hand, she questioned him fiercely.

"Why did he go there when he had said to them they were going merely to Sasso? The quarry was at least three miles from Sasso."

Well, they hadn't gone to Sasso at all, Alan replied. They had left the aqueduct path and descended into the valley on the other side.

But why?—Cristina wanted to know.

Alan shrugged his shoulders. He was wet through, tired to death and inclined to be cross. Why does one do anything? Because the notion just took him—that was all.

Then Cristina saw her terrible thoughts into words, accused him, and made him a present of his motive. He wanted, said Cristina, to get rid of the boy, just as he wanted to get rid of those of them were in his way. He coveted for himself that poor abandoned boy with his hands.

But at the bottom of the quarry had failed, or else some of the woodcutters on Monte Nero had seen him push Giovanni down the slope into the pool, and so had had to rescue the child and pretend it was an accident. Thus did Cristina reconstruct an unthinkable crime.

Alan stared after him in silence. So much that was new and strange about Cristina had come to light recently. He had been living with a woman he did not know at all; and worse still, that woman was the mother of his son.

"You dare not deny it!" Cristina cried, her dark eyes blazing.

Quickly she gathered Giovanni in her arms and took him to his little bed.

Alan heated himself some coffee, and then feeling the discomfort of his damp garments changed into dry clothes. He acted in a very poor and hasty manner, for he was not sleepy and he was glad to get rid of his clothes. But at the bottom of the quarry had failed, or else some of the woodcutters on Monte Nero had seen him push Giovanni down the slope into the pool, and so had had to rescue the child and pretend it was an accident. Thus did Cristina reconstruct an unthinkable crime.

But at the bottom of the quarry had failed, or else some of the woodcutters on Monte Nero had seen him push Giovanni down the slope into the pool, and so had had to rescue the child and pretend it was an accident. Thus did Cristina reconstruct an unthinkable crime.

Of course, he might have been able to keep them afloat by holding on to the fringe of the bushes all night, but no amount of calling and shouting would have brought them immediate help, since the men working on the lumber fellings had already gone back to camp. Perhaps even in the morning they might not have been heard or discovered. It seemed to Cristina that he had performed an almost superhuman feat in getting himself and Giovanni out of the pool, but back again up the sheer, slippery side of the quarry. It had been an inch by inch business, but wonderfully helped by the boy in whose veins flowed the blood of a mountain people, and who kept only his load but his father's load.

Alan had never before felt so drawn to his beautiful little son, and now to have the child's mother accuse him of the thing she did, made him physically sick. Because, as she imagined, he wanted to get possession of that son!

After changing his clothes Alan returned to the kitchen for another cup of coffee and a cognac, and then he saw how little brandy there was in the drawer. He was quite sure it had been filled only yesterday. Could it be that Cristina?

But she followed him into the kitchen and seeing him holding the drawer and eying it distrustfully, she said: "The Signor Tancred was here this afternoon and I offered him some hospitality. He drank a great deal of his cognac."

He whirled upon her.

"Signed? What did he want?" Alan's frown was black.

"O, you need not look at me so!" exclaimed Cristina. "He came to see me, but as you were out he left a message—and also he left this. He does not wish the signor to sit to you for the bust. He thinks you were progressing fast enough. Perhaps if you can spare that money, you will give it to me."

McKinlocks Go East
Dedication of Memorial to Son

BY NANCY R.

Many are the summer wanderings on our social books, but few of them have such a distinguished, interesting and touching objective as that on which the George McKinlocks embarked Sunday.

They went east to Cambridge, Mass., to be present at the dedication of the Alexander McKinlock memorial at Harvard, which is to take place this week, and at which they will be figures of interest, both as the devoted parents of this Chicago youth who lost his life in the world war and as the donors of the memorial gift to their son's alma mater.

The McKinlocks' plans for the summer months have been changed several times since winter, but at present this short eastern trip is the only one they are planning to take during the early part of the summer. They will return to the Lake Forest house next week, and unless they decide on a journey abroad, as was their intention when they came north from the Palm Beach section, it looks as if their Chicago friends would see something of them in this part of the world in the next six or eight weeks to come.

From Mrs. Arthur Ryerson, who maintains her position as Chicago's most nomadic social leader, comes word of her long European junketing which is nearly over. She has included many interesting things in her itinerary, which began with a dahabieh trip up the Nile and ended with a sojourn in Jugoslavia—her latest card has been postmarked Sarajevo—but now she is sailing, in company with her brother, Adolph Horie, for this country on June 18. She expects to go directly to her farm, Ringwood, near Cooperstown, N. Y., where she will be hostess to several of our citizens during their summer travels.

The National Park Seminary Alumnae association is to have its annual summer luncheon at the residence of Mrs. James G. Alexander of 1911 East Walton street at 12:30 o'clock today.

Miss Frances Holbrook of Highland Park is to give a luncheon party on Saturday at the Cordon club for Miss Minnie Bradford of Evanston. Mrs. Edward Hollingshead, Alice Price Bell, and Miss Rachel Vining of Chicago, and Bradford's engagement to Scott C. Green, was announced recently, and Miss Wing is to sail soon for Europe.

Miss Marion Dixon, daughter of George W. Dixon of 1250 Lake Shore drive, has been home on the 11th after another during her lengthy trip abroad, and to cap the climax to a series of exciting adventures, she has received a royal invitation. Through Ambassador Houghton in London, she has been bid to the court garden party which Queen Mary is to give some time between June 21 and July 4. Miss Dixon's sailing arrangements were complete for her return on the Benjamin Franklin in New York on June 23, but the tantalizing possibility of attending the function is causing the transfer of a number of cablegrams between Ambassador Houghton, Marion herself, and her father, and may result in her remaining long enough to be the queen's guest. Miss Dixon had the experience of flying by airplane from Brussels to London, and has been motoring with friends in southeastern and southwestern England since her arrival there.

The stay-at-home members of the Dixon family will be at Oconomowoc, where the Dixon country place is one of the most commodious and impressive of the larger residences. Miss Grace Dixon returned last week from California and is to depart for Wisconsin next week to act as chaperone of the summer gathering place.

Miss Janet Llewellyn, sub-deb granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Llewellyn of the Sloss Hotel in Birmingham, is to depart this evening with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Needham of 69 East Division street to be their guest at their country place at Castle Park, Mich. John T. Llewellyn III, is to go to a boys' camp at Minoqua, Wis., on June 25.

Miss Muriel Wurts-Dundas has taken Mrs. J. West Roosevelt's home in Cove Neck, L. I., for the summer.
